Ike Pledges Self to 168 Million, Peace; GOP Drive Sweeps All Wards in Kingston

Shaky Cease-Fire Settles Over Middle East

Every Candidate On Ticket Wins

A Republican sweep of every city district, in line with the nationwide GOP trend, gave President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and Vice-President Richard M. Nixon a plurality of 2,533 above their 1952 vote here, and carried all other Republican candidates to victory.

First unofficial returns show a plurality of 7,254 for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket against the 4,721 polled in 1952.

The GOP vote for president and vice-president was 11,436 yesterday while Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver polled a total of 3,787 on the Democratic ticket and 395 Liberal party votes for a total of 4,182.

Change in Sixth Ward

All but the sixth ward showed totals favoring Eisenhower and Nixon in 1952. This year, every city district was solidly in the Republican column, and the sixth ward gave Eisenhower and Nixon a plurality of 113.

Also polling large Republican pluralitys here yesterday were Jacob K. Javits, for the U. S. Senate; Ernest Wharton, for congressman; Dr. E. Ogden Bush, state senator; Kenneth L. Wilson, member of the state assembly; Charles H. Gaffney, county surrogate, Claude Bell, county sheriff and Michael Galietta, unopposed for coroner.

Roads Proposition Wins

Supreme Court Justice Sidney F. Foster, was a candidate for election on the Republican, Democratic and Liberal party tickets and polled a vote of 15,220.

Proposition No. 1, dealing with approval of a state road fund won in the city by 259, but Proposition No. 2, dealing with authorization of money for housing lost by 3,423.

The vote on No. 1 was 3,093 yes, and 2,834 no. The vote on the other was 1,273 yes, and 4,696 no.

Javits by 3,159

Jacob K. Javits poled 9,282 against 6,133 for his Democratic and Liberal party opponent Robert F. Wagner for a plurality of 3,159. The liberal party vote was 469.

For Congress, Ernest Wharton, Republican polled 10,191 against 5,013 for Vincent di Gennaro on the Democratic and Liberal party tickets. The Liberal

County Rolls Up Big Vote For GOP Men

President Eisenhower in a record sweeping victory was overwhelmingly approved Tuesday by voters of Ulster county, when he carried the area by a plurality of some 29,000 votes, according to unofficial figures from 93 districts comprising the City of Kingston and the townships of Ulster county. There are 94 districts in the county.

For Congressman, J. Ernest Wharton rolled up a plurality of over 22,000 over his Democratic and Liberal party opponent.

Wilson Reelected

Assemblyman Kenneth Wilson, Republican incumbent in the state assembly also had a plurality in the twenty thousands, according to unofficial figures from 93 districts.

Claude Bell, Republican candidate for the office of sheriff of Ulster county, defeated his Democratic opponent by a plurality of over 21,000.

For Judge of the Surrogate Court, Charles Gaffney had a plurality of over twenty thousand.

Javits Figure 17,000

For United States Senator, according to unofficial figures, Javits Republican candidate had a plurality of more than 17,000 in the unofficial figures tabulated in the 93 districts.

Dr. E. Ogden Bush, Republican candidate for the office of State Senator to succeed Senator Arthur H. Wicks rolled up a plurality of over 18,000 here over his Democratic opponent, William B. Byrne Jr. of Catskill.

Democrats Hold House, Leading Senate Seats

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Democrats elected enough House members for numerical control at 12:50 p. m. (EST) today but one of their winners died shortly after his reelection in a normally Democratic district. The vacancy must be filled in a special election, with a Democratic successor taken for granted.

19 Still Undecided

At the time the Democrats reached the 219 mark, one more than a bare majority, Republicans had elected 197. Of the 435 House seats, 19 still were undecided, with Democrats ahead in 14 and Republicans in 5.

The member-elect who died was Antonio M. Fernandez of New Mexico, a veteran of 14 years in Congress.

At the same hour the Democrats were within 1 vote of winning Senate dominance as well as House control.

48 Seats Assured

Democrats had elected 17 senators and Republicans 15, with Democrats ahead in undecided contests in Kentucky and Nevada and Republicans leading in South Dakota. Democrats have 31 holdovers for an assured 48 seats, one short of a majority, while Republicans have 30 holdovers for a minimum of 45 seats.

Should the Democrats win both Houses it would be the first time in the present two-party system that a President failed to carry at least one branch of Congress when he is elected.

Republican Sen. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania, one of Eisenhower's earliest supporters, went down to defeat at the hands of Democrat Joseph S. Clark Jr., 55-year-old former mayor of Philadelphia.

Chairmen Join Candidates in Giving Thanks

Local Republican leaders and winning candidates expressed gratification today over the strong Republican tide in the elections Tuesday and gratitude to committeemen, workers and citizens for their support.

Sen Arthur H. Wicks, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, said he was very grateful to the people of Ulster county for their fine support of Republican candidates—both county candidates and the national ticket. He said the response to the Republican party on the national level " was to me phenomenal."

"I am deeply grateful to all the workers who made this splendid victory possible." He said that without such fine support the party could have done nothing, that those people dedicated to public service—"whom I call unsung heroes"—should be given credit "for yesterday's splendid victory."

N. Le Van Haver, chairman of the Kingston Republican Committee, "called the results of the election "most gratifying, to say the least."

They show the continued interest of the people of the city and county in the Republican

Israelis Opposing Occupation

Reds Are Ready To Help Egypt

London, Nov. 7 (AP)—Reports of continuing shooting shadowed a shaky cease-fire in the Middle East today.

Prime Minister Eden told the House of Commons there had been "some shooting" during the day at Port Said in the Suez Canal zone. He said Britain had no official confirmation that Egypt accepted a United Nations cease-fire order.

Cairo Charges Attacks

The Cairo radio, in a broadcast reported from Beirut, charged that British-French forces were continuing attacks "in defiance of the UN call for a cease-fire."

Threats of Communist intervention, and a declaration by Premier David Ben-Gurion of Israel indicating he will refuse to pull back troops from the Gaza Strip and Sinai Peninsula further threatened the hair-triggered peace, only hours old.

Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov, in a Bolshevik revolution anniversary speech in Moscow, declared Russia was ready to send military forces to throw British, French and Israeli troops out of Egypt —if the UN approves.

Two Offer Troops

Two of Russia's satellites, Romania and Czechoslovakia, offered in New York to contribute troops to the UN as part of an international police force in the Middle East.

An Egyptian diplomat in Hong Kong said 250,000 Red Chinese have volunteered for "Egypt's struggle against aggression." Soviet reserve officers were reported by another Egyptian diplomat in Moscow to be volunteering.

Eden said he did not wish to emphasize the shooting at Port Said. He declared Britain and France had not the "slightest intention" of moving ahead of their present positions, or pushing in additional forces aside from administrative and security elements.

Says Armistice Dead

In Jerusalem, Premier David Ben-Gurion declared the 1949 armistice with Egypt is a dead letter. He said Israel will not agree to any foreign forces "no matter under what name" being stationed on Israeli soil or territory she occupies. The occupied territory includes Sinai and the Gaza Strip.

The Ben-Gurion statement appeared to rule out any Israeli pullback, even for a UN police force to move in.

The crux of the situation facing the UN General Assembly, as it met today to work out a police force to bolster the peace, was what to do about these forces already in Egypt. The security council already has refused to take up a Soviet plan for United States and Russian intervention.

The Egyptian Embassy in Moscow said Soviet reserve offi-

Victory Over Stevenson Is Greater Than 1952 Win

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—President Eisenhower, jubilant over a smashing re-election victory, said today he would work with all his strength "for 168 million Americans here at home and for peace in the world."

A tumultuous ovation greeted Eisenhower as he appeared at a victory rally a few minutes after his opponent, Adlai Stevenson, conceded defeat and sent Eisenhower "warm congratulations."

The 66-year-old President had scored a great triumph in a career marked by triumph, by rolling up a bigger victory over Stevenson than he did in 1952.

And Eisenhower told a Republican Party celebration at the Shareaton-Park Hotel at 1:45 a. m. (EST):

"I think that modern Republicanism has now proved itself. And America has approved of modern Republicanism."

Crowd Cheers Wildly

Eisenhower's victory talk was made to a wildly cheering crowd of about 2,000 party faithful in the hotel ballroom and to a nationwide television and radio audience.

He said he wanted to make a pledge, and then went on to say:

"With whatever talent the good God has given me and with whatever strength there is in me, I will continue—and so will my associates—to do just one thing: To work for 168 million Americans here at home and for peace in the world."

The President's pledge to continue working for a lasting world peace—the central theme of his campaign—served to underscore the precarious international picture—the situation in Soviet-crushed Hungary and in the Middle East.

Watches Crises

Even as he received election returns last night, Eisenhower kept close watch on developments in those areas. About midnight the White House announced that Eisenhower had just received a "very friendly and encouraging" message from French Premier Guy Mollet regarding efforts to halt the shooting in Egypt. The detailed contents of the message were not made public.

GOP Picks Up 11 Seats Ave Holds Veto Stick

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—New York Republicans picked up 11 legislative seats in yesterday's election, most of them in Democratic New York city, and came close to electing a "veto-proof" legislature.

The GOP scored a net gain of three state senate seats to take a 38-20 edge over the Democrats, and picked up seven assembly seats for 97-53 control.

But Harriman, during the 1957 session, will be able to wield the same big "veto" stick. To override a veto, the GOP would need a two-thirds majority in both houses. That would be 39-19 in the Senate and 100-50 in the Assembly.

Queens Is Spoiler

The GOP would have acheived the "veto-proof" lineup in the Senate except for the defeat of Republican Sen. Bernard Tompkins in Queens. He was beaten by Thomas A. Duffy, assemblyman who bid for a seat in the smaller house.

Republicans scored the four Senate victories in Queens, Brooklyn, Richmond (Staten Island) and the Bronx They picked up two Assembly seats in Brooklyn, two in Queens and three in the Bronx.

All rode the crest of the Eisenhower landslide. The ranks of GOP lawmakers upstate stood solid.

Senate Victories

The GOP Senate victories:

Queens (7th District): Irwin Pakula, former state senator from Long Island City, defeated Sen. James G. Sweeney.

Brooklyn (14th District): William T. Conklin, 48-year-old jewelry store executive, picked off Sen. John F. Furey (D-L), who had served 16 years in the Senate and Assembly.

Richmond (19th District): John J. Marchi, 35-year-old lawyer, beat out Sen. Edward V. Curry (D-L) 45, a consulting engineer.

Bronx (29th District): Former Sen. Joseph F. Periconi defeated Sen. Francis J. McCaffrey, who defeated him two years ago when both were senators and they met head-on in a reapportioned district. McCaffrey won then by 1,588 votes.

The Republican Assembly gains:

Brooklyn (3rd District): Har-

Ike, Javits Win Big in State Race

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—President Eisenhower piled up a plurality of approximately 1,500,000 votes over Adlai Stevenson in winning New York's 45 electoral votes.

The Republicans also gained a seat in the U. S. Senate as Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits defeated Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, Democratic-Liberal candidate, by some 450,000.

The Figures

Returns from 11,129 of the state's 11,132 election districts, with traditionally Democratic New York city complete, gave:

For President Eisenhower 4,318,014; Stevenson 2,742,228.

For the Senate—Javits 3,700,273; Wagner 3,256,898.

Javits will succeed retiring Democratic Sen. Herbert H. Lehman.

Wagner had aspired to follow in the footsteps of his father, the late Sen. Robert F. Wagner, sponsor of the Wagner Labor Relations law and other New Deal legislation.

Upstate too Much

The mayor carried New York city by almost 450,000 votes, but could not cope with the upstate outpouring of Republican ballots.

In contrast with Wagner's run in the city, Stevenson carried the traditional Democratic stronghold by only 62,904 votes. The count was: Stevenson 1,614,825; Eisenhower 1,551,921.

And upstate, Eisenhower took city after city and district after district by larger margins than he did four years ago.

Ike New Jersey's Greatest Vote-Getter, Has 64 PC

Newark, N. J., Nov. 7 (AP)—President Eisenhower's astounding victory over Adlai Stevenson in the New Jersey general election yesterday made him the biggest vote getter to run in the state.

Unofficial returns from 4,017 of the state's 4,155 election districts gave Eisenhower 1,522,971 votes to 821,067 for Stevenson.

This gave Eisenhower 64 per cent of the total vote and more than a 700,000 plurality.

It compared with 57 per cent and a 359,000 plurality he received in 1952.

Didn't Visit State

The performance by New Jersey voters gave Eisenhower, who didn't even enter the state during the campaign, these records:

1. The first candidate ever to carry all 21 counties.

2. The first candidate ever to run up such a plurality.

3. The first Republican ever to carry all of the state's four normally Democratic counties — Camden, Hudson, Middlesex and Mercer.

Sweeps Hudson County

4. The first Republican ever to sweep Hudson county, which gave Eisenhower an almost unbelievable 66,000 majority and ousted two incumbent Democratic Congressmen.

5. The first Republican ever to win a county by 167,000 votes, the score turned in by GOP Bergen. This compared with Eisenhower's 119,000 plurality in 1952, then considered a record that would never be equalled.

6. The first Republican ever to carry Democratic Middlesex county by an impressive plurality — 35,000. Eisenhower won Middlesex by 3,000 votes in 1952 to become the first Republican to carry the county in 20 years.

More Popular Than FDR

Hudson county Democratic leader John V. Kenny said the voting in his bailiwick indicated Eisenhower is more popular than was President Roosevelt.

Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner refused to comment on the returns, indicating he would talk today at a news conference in his Trenton office.

Republican State Chairman Samuel L. Bodine told a news conference "I see no comfort in this victory for the Democrats in the days to come."

Democratic State Chairman George E. Brunner said in a statement "I regard this as a personal victory for President

President Summons Congress Heads to Parley on Crisis

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP) — President Eisenhower today called congressional leaders of both parties to a White House meeting Friday for discussion of steps toward creation of a lasting peace in the Middle East.

Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, said the conference also would deal with the situation in central Europe. That would include the picture in Hungary and Poland.

In response to questions, Hagerty said that "at the present time" Eisenhower has no plans to call a special session of Congress.

Hagerty also announced that the President would confer later today (3 p. m. EST) with Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

Asked whether that session would deal with this country's role regarding a United Nations police force for the strife-ridden

$500 Million Road Bond Passes, Low-Income Housing Is Defeated

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—New York state can borrow 500 million dollars to build more roads but it can't loan 100 million to encourage construction of "middle-income" housing.

Those were the answers given by the state's voters to the two questions that appeared on yesterday's election ballot.

Sympathy for the highway plan was equally strong in New York city and upstate, which would be the chief beneficiary of new road construction.

But the upstate voters scuttled the housing proposal. New York city residents, likely to benefit the most from the type of apartment-unit construction involved, voted in favor.

Th highway plan was approved as decisively as a similar proposal was defeated a year ago. The 1955 plan, calling for a 750-million-dollar highway bond issue, involved an immediate increase in the state gasoline tax. There was no tax increase tied to this year's question.

Late returns from 10,323 of the state's 11,132 election districts showed today that 1,866,376 voters answered the question "yes" and 813,610 "no."

The state comptroller was authorized by the 1956 legislature to sell 150 million dollars worth of the bonds immediately after the plan was approved.

Proposition No. 2 asked whether the state should issue $100 million in bonds to be used for loans to private contractors. The contractors would use the money to build apartments renting to families with incomes ranging from $4,000 to $6,000 a year.

Returns from 10,323 districts showed 1,113,551 voters approved, 606,604 of them from New York city, and 1,347,671 did not, 848,802 of the dissenters living outside the city.

The highway proposal had virtually no pre-election opposition. But the housing plan drew fire from two highly vocal organizations—The Empire State Chamber of Commerce and the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey Inc., a taxpayers group.

Both organizations objected to the plan chiefly on the ground that the contractors could win local tax exemptions of up to 50 per cent.

Heaviest Pennsy Vote Fails To Save Duff Seat for GOP

Philadelphia, Nov. 7 (AP) — President Eisenhower scored an overwhelming victory in Pennsylvania's election but Republican James H. Duff lost his U. S. Senate seat to Democrat Joseph S. Clark in a stunning exception to the GOP landslide.

Eisenhower rolled up a staggering 570,000 plurality over Adlai Stevenson—300,000 more than his margin four years ago.

Clark, the 55-year-old former mayor of Philadelphia, on the basis of nearly complete returns was a 30,000-vote winner over Duff.

With 8670 of the state's 8808 precincts reported, the count was:

Eisenhower 2,505,434.

Stevenson 1,934,781.

It was far and away the biggest presidential vote spread since the Franklin D. Roosevelt win over Republican Alf Landon 20 years ago.

Eisenhower's total was the largest presidential vote ever recorded in the state.

Almost as breath-taking as the extent of Eisenhower's victory was the vote run up by Democrat Clark. Despite the GOP sweep, Clark ran nearly 200,000 ahead of the rest of the Democratic state ticket. The Clark victory placed him right in national political arena and made him a vice presidential, perhaps even a presidential possibility to be reckoned with four years hence.

The Clark result had to hinge on large scale ticket splitting with a number of Republicans and independents voting for Eisenhower and the Democratic senatorial candidate.

With all the state's 30 congressional seats at stake the GOP returned their 16 incumbents to Washington and picked up a seat from the Democrats. Republican S. Walter Stauffer defeated incumbent Democrat James M. Quigley in the 19th district that includes President Eisenhower's Gettysburg farm home.

And carried on the heels of the Eisenhower landslide, the Republicans gained undisputed control of both houses of the state legislature.

Lausche Defeats Bender in Ohio

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 7 (AP)—Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche won the late Robert A. Taft's old Senate seat by bucking an Ohio GOP sweep for President Eisenhower and most statewide offices.

Unofficial returns indicated Eisenhower would win Ohio's 25 electoral votes by more than his half-million margin of 1952.

Lausche, who said he might vote with Republicans to organize the next Senate if he and Eisenhower won, defeated incumbent GOP Sen. George H. Bender, who carried endorsement of the President and his cabinet members.

DiSalle Trounced

Republican Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill trounced Democrat Michael V. DiSalle, former federal price controller, in the race for governor.

A slow count of a predicted 3¾ million Ohio votes cast in yesterday's unseasonably warm weather indicate a near sweep of statewide offices for Republicans.

The race between Eisenhower and Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson in 8,677 of Ohio's 12,097 polling places gave:

Eisenhower 1,585,290, Stevenson 981,949.

The senatorial test in 8,622 polling places gave:

Lausche 1,263,138, Bender 1,149.717.

In the gubernatorial event, 8,647 polling places gave:

O'Neill 1,344,424, DiSalle 1,081,370.

Retired Brewer Dies

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—George F. Trommer, 80, former president of the John F. Trommer Brewery, died yesterday in New York Hospital. Trommer entered the brewing business as an apprentice in th Ulmer Brewery, where his father, the late John F. Trommer, was brewmaster. The father established his own brewing company in 1897. The younger Trommer became president of the firm upon his father's death. In 1950 Trommer sold his properties to Piel Bros. and retired. He was a past president of the New York State Brewers Foundation. A lifelong bachelor, Trommer leaves no immediate relatives.

Powell May Quit Democratic Party

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N. Y.), newly re-elected Negro congressman, says he might quit the Democratic party. He supported President Eisenhower for re-election.

Powell said last night he intends to vote as a Democrat in the organization of the new Congress. But he added:

"If the Democratic party becomes the party of Eastlandism, I cannot stay in it."

This was a reference to Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss), a strong segregationist.

Powell supported Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson for president in 1952. But he switched to Eisenhower last month because, he said, he was pleased with the President's stand on civil rights.

THE RICHER GIFT

The sort of person who goes about doing good is familiar to all of us. Often it seems that such a person is less concerned with the needs and the feelings of those he benefits than he is with satisfying his own ego.

In this connection, a couple of definitions are helpful. Consider one of the most beautiful words in the language, "compassion." It means, as Webster says, "fellowship in feeling; hence, sorrow or pity excited by the distress or misfortunes of another; commiseration; sympathy." Now think of another word, less commonly used but most pertinent—the word "empathy." This is defined as "imaginative projection of one's own consciousness into another being. . ."

"Imaginative projection" — that's the thing. To put one's self into the other fellow's place; to understand his problems and needs and desires and fears; to rejoice with him when he is happy, to have compassion when he is in distress.

It is possible, in a limited sense, to perform good deeds without having compassion and empathy. The man who grumblingly writes a check for a charitable cause is doing good in this crabbed and narrow sense. The money he donates will buy just as much clothing or milk or school equipment or medicine as if he had given it gladly and with the wish that it could be more.

But how much richer the gift if it springs from compassion, from a deep sympathy and understanding. This motivation, and this spirit, make good deeds shine with a special radiance.

It's all right to talk up and get a few things off your chest once in a while—but it's always wise to keep your shirt on while you're doing it.

AGAINST THE OCTOPUS

The outbreak of revolt in Hungary reveals to the world the fact that the Soviet Union has been holding together its new satellite empire by force rather than by ideological means. And while popular emotions fasten on politics, the presence of foreign soldiers, the lack of freedom, the struggle now going on also involves the desire for freedom from economic subordination to the Soviet Union.

Inasmuch as other parties had been banned in Poland and Hungary, it was inevitable that when revolt did come, it had to be through the national Communist parties. Many people think of revolutions as resulting because mobs pour into the streets and overwhelm the government. Yet even with mobs, success depends on organization, leadership and communication.

It is an over-simplification for us to say that after all, even though the Poles and Hungarians are trying to kick the Russians out, they are still Communists. The masses of the people of Poland and Hungary are not Communist. And before these countries are once again settled down, Gomulka, Nagy and other leaders may also go down the chutes.

More than any ideological principle or long run aim; the people of Poland and Hungary wants concrete gains. They want a life that is more free. They want bread. They want the foreigner to get out and allow them to manage their own destiny. Unless they are crushed and demoralized, they will continue to press—and to die—for the achievement of these deeds.

We should keep an open mind as these rapidly-moving events take place. The people of Poland and Hungary have begun to give their lives in a struggle with the Russian octopus. They deserve our deepest sympathy.

There have been a lot of improvements in automobiles. But the only thing that can reduce traffic hazards is an improvement in the attitude of the man behind the wheel.

The designers have come up with beautiful cars that are longer than ever. Which may be why the parking spaces seem shorter.

SAVE THE U.N.

I am told by the United World Federalists of New Jersey, Inc., to save the United Nations. Automatically, the thought would not have occurred to me. Institutions, such as the United Nations, live or die in accordance with the course of events and not because a group in Newark or some other place wants to save it from extinction. If it cannot survive on its own strength, why save it?

The United Nations cannot deal with the major questions that face mankind under the terms of its present Charter. True, as the United World Federalists of New Jersey say, "the U.N. is dying because it lacks authority to settle disputes among its members." No truer statement could be made. But we are now witnessing the occupation of member countries by Soviet troops who are shooting down the people like clay pigeons. And we witness a war in the Middle East involving four member states.

Realistically the United Nations is unable to maintain the peace, as long as the international Communist movement exists. For actually that international Communist movement is also a United Nations and it functions with some of the authority which these United World Federalists of New Jersey would give to the United Nations. At the same time, the Russians use the veto in the Security Council in pursuit of Russian policy. Of the two United Nations, the one whose headquarters is in the Kremlin seems to have more authority over its members than the one that sits on the banks of the East River, although after the Hungarian and Polish rebellions conditions may change that somewhat.

The New Jerseyites want for the United Nations "an international force and national disarmament thru (that's the way they spell it) the U.N. are essentials of world peace." But under present conditions such as international force could only be used as Soviet Russia permitted because Soviet Russia is one of five nations that, under the Charter, may use the veto freely, and Soviet Russia does use it freely.

As for disarmament, since 1946, the United States has been striving to find some uniform and decent way of taking the A-bomb and ultimately the H-bomb out of war. Such a proposal can only be practical if international inspection and control are accepted. Soviet Russia has consistently rejected every practical proposal for inspection from the Baruch Plan in 1946 to the Eisenhower Proposal of 1955. Precisely how do these gentlemen and ladies from New Jersey expect to get the Russians to accept inspection if Baruch failed with Molotov and Eisenhower failed with Khrushchev? Maybe the United World Federalists of New Jersey, Inc., have a plan which they believe can work, but there is no evidence at hand which would indicate that the Russians will accept any plan which involves inspection.

That has been the weakness of Adlai Stevenson's campaign speeches against the H-bomb. This column was probably the first which published accounts of the dangers of radioactive strontium in the fall-out of H-bombs. But while such dangers exist, no one has come up with a plan for stopping tests of H-bombs by the United States which would guarantee that the Russians would also stop tests. As the Stevenson proposition stands, no matter how it is worded, it comes down to a unilateral action by the United States. Bulganin's letter to Eisenhower did not change that, as Bulganin did not propose a plan for inspection and control.

Without international inspection, it is impossible to trust the Russians and that also is based upon their habit of violating treaties and agreements which cease to please them. The point is that while the United World Federalists of New Jersey, Inc., express noble ideas, so did Confucius and Isaiah and others, but the problem always is to make an ideal work and that is not so easy. Virtue, we know all about, but the practice of virtue is a tough enterprise for anyone who undertakes it.

The U.N. will not die because even conflicting nations find it useful as an international vent, but it is not likely that much will be done to rectify the faults in the Charter or to give the United Nations Organization, which is its true name, real authority over its members.

That Body of Yours

ILLNESS IN ANOTHER EMPLOYE

We have been discussing a group survey of patients whose illness was considered to be due to "overwork" but which was actually due to the conditions, such as an unappreciative supervisor, under which they had to work, in the majority of cases.

Eighteen of these 91 person group developed an anxiety reaction after a serious or mortal illness in another employe that they attributed in some degree to the victim's occupation. The most disturbing illness to this group was a fatal coronary thrombosis occurring in a person doing the same type of work. The suddenness, brevity and severity of the illness in an apparently previously healthy person was particularly frightening to the other employes. It was not necessary for the anxious patient to be employed in the same office with the person who died; he only had to be doing the same type of work and in the same age group.

The conversation among the other employes as to what caused the coronary thrombosis usually ended by implicating the victim's work as a contributory, if not the most important, factor, and the patient who became anxious happened to be doing the same or a similar type of job. This might be pointed out to him in a joking manner by the others, or, what was more disturbing, the head of his department might suggest that he look to his health because he certainly did not want to lose any more of his personnel in a similar manner.

How did these patients react? It was not unusual for them to experience an acute episode of anxiety, with palpitation of the heart, breathlessness, and discomfort in the region in front of the heart which they interpreted as a "heart attack." They would be temporarily relieved by their physician's reassurance after a physical examination, but, since they were obviously tense, they were frequently advised to "slow down a little," which further implicated their work. They would usually decide to give up cigarettes and coffee whether they were advised to do so or not.

A third group of eight patients appeared, on first observation, to have so many responsibilities in their profession or occupation and such demands on their time that their conviction that their overwork was the cause of their tension seemed justified. However, on closer examination and taking of case histories, it was found that the tension preceded the occupational stress. In other words, it was not the excessive work that created the tension but rather the tension itself was producing the external demands. These eight patients had several points in common. They had always had a great deal of energy and drive, had never been able to follow a regular routine in their pattern of living, and all had assumed responsibility for themselves early in life (whether family circumstances made it necessary or not). They relied completely on themselves and never on other people's and consequently had a great fear of illness and the possibility of becoming dependent. This tendency to trust only their own judgment accounted for a considerable portion of their obligations since they were unable to delegate authority or responsibility comfortably. They depended on their occupational pressures to explain their uncomfortable state to themselves.

Paying Off an Election Bet

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington, (NEA)—Israel's quick military victory in the Sinai peninsula east of the Suez Canal presents an entirely new situation in the Middle East, in the opinion of Washington experts on that area.

The problem is, now that the Israeli forces are in possession of the Sinai, how are they to be got out? There is considerable feeling that it will take more than a United Nations resolution to accomplish that.

Heretofore, the great Arab fear of Israeli expansion has been that it would be in an easterly direction, across Jordan. Instead, Israel has moved her western boundary 100 miles from the southern Negev desert wedge to the Suez Canal.

By so doing Israel has multiplied her land area in Palestine many times. It can be argued that the new area is a wasteland of no value. But geographically it is most important.

It gives Israel outlets on both the Gulf of Aqaba and the Red Sea. Still more important, it gives Israel a position of control over the Suez Canal, from which its ships had been barred by the Egyptians.

And it greatly enlarges the wedge which separates the African Arab countries from the Asian Arab countries.

IT IS CONCEDED by military experts that the Israeli maneuver was brilliantly conceived and carried out. It was based on accurate advance intelligence and careful planning.

Egyptian strong points were at first by-passed. Then they were surrounded and put to rout or captured. The bluff of Egypt's military might was both called and checked.

The Egyptians had apparently figured that with the former British bases in the Suez Canal area and with the new tanks, planes and guns from Soviet Russia, they would be invincible. But the Egyptians had no defense plan and they had not been trained for their job. So their eastern army was destroyed.

THERE IS NO PROOF, but there is now little doubt in diplomatic circles that Israel, Britain and France acted in concert on this enterprise.

The general belief is that Israel first persuaded France to go along on the adventure. Then the two of them bought Britain in as leading partner.

British, French and Israeli sources refuse comment on the charge—first made by the Russians—that the three powers acted in unison on a plan agreed to in advance.

The Israeli timing was carefully calculated. Coming just before the U. S. elections, it minimized the chance of active American counter-measures. Coming when Russia was involved in Hungary and Poland, the likelihood of Soviet intervention in the Middle East was also reduced.

Much of the Communist military equipment for Egypt was moving through Poland and Hungary, so that supply line was broken.

What students of the Middle East fear more than a Russian move to help Egypt is that the Soviet will take this opportunity of confusion to move into northern Iran, which she has long coveted. That would involve Britain on two fronts.

BUT NOW THAT the first phase of the adventure is completed, the great problem for Britain and France is how they can hold the Suez Canal area without also controlling all Egypt.

Thus, at the end of the first week of this new "police action," the consensus is that while Israeli-British-French forces may have won the first battle in a hurry, there is no assurance that they have won the war.

The three powers now stand without a friend in the world. The mood of the United Nations General Assembly as it passed its first resolution "urging" and "recommending" an end to the invasion of Egypt was interpreted as grim and determined.

As one British observer is reported to have remarked at the end of the session: "We're in. It will be up to you to get us out."

Any idea that the British, French and Israeli forces attacked for a "temporary occupation" of Egypt is not taken seriously in many informed quarters.

Dulles Is Praised for Role In Middle East Cease-Fire

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 7—Soviet Russia has been plotting in the Middle East for several years—stilmulating friction and steadily adding to the military burdens of the nations of the West. It is one of the oldest military maneuvers in history—to embarrass a potential enemy on a weak flank.

The success of Communist influence can be seen in the votes cast in the United Nations this week. India and the Arab states, for example, voted to condemn Britain and France for using force in the Middle East, but abstained from voting at all on a resolution intended to condemn the Soviet Union for using force in Hungary.

An obvious aim of the Communist maneuvers in the Middle East has been to give the Mossow regime a free hand in eastern Europe, where the western armies for the present stand helpless at the frontiers of the satellite countries unable to assist the free peoples in their crusade for liberation.

One wonders how much more of a problem would have confronted Britain and France if there had not been a brave army in Israel to ally itself with the west.

U. S. Foresaw Trend

The United States government early foresaw the trend in Egypt and tried at first to keep Nasser away from Soviet connections. But the Egyptian dictator, selfish and ambitious to build an Arab empire of his own, started to conspire with the Communists, who supplied him at the opportune moment with arms through Czechoslovakia. Then naturally America withdrew her aid to Nasser, which had taken the form principally of a tentative plan to build the Aswan dam.

When this proposal to help construct the dam was withdrawn by the United States, many Democrats in Congress criticized Secretary Dulles for doing so. When they were asked if they favored a continuance of aid to Nasser, the answer usually given was that Dulles objective was right but that the method was "abrupt" or "ill advised."

This, however, has been the type of tranparently captious criticism of the American secretary of state which has been current throughout the last three years. Many of the brickbats have come from elements in London and Paris because Mr. Dulles again and again has stood up for American interests and has with prudence tried to avoid an outbreak of hostilities or American involvement in military action.

Influence Wise

But it will be noted now that the influence interposed by Secretary Dulles impartially and opportunely before the United Nations in the Middle East situation has proved wise. It has contributed to the pressure on Britain, France and Israel to agree to a cease-fire.

The many crosscurrents of politics and business in western Europe have to be understood to realize that the barbs tossed at Mr. Dulles, blaming him for Communist misbehavior, were backhanded ways of attacking President Eisenhower. The fiction circulated by certain college professors in the Stevenson camp that Mr. Dulles has been acting on his own and that the President didn't know what was going on or didn't want certain things done, is one of the most brazen innuendos of a lack of responsibility ever levelled against an American chief executive. It crept into the recent campaign, too, in a tragic example of misguided partisanship.

Now, when Mr. Dulles is in the hospital recovering from a serious operation, there are some in this country and abroad who are hopeful that, because of his illness, a change will be made in the Department of State. There are plenty of Trumanites in the department who are eager to see someone who thinks along their lines come in at the top.

But none of these critics really knows John Foster Dulles—his strong character, indefatigable energy and will power. Nor do they know Dwight Eisenhower. Mr. Dulles will continue as secretary of state when he recovers from his present illness—and the man who will insist on keeping him on the job is the President himself. For he knows that there is no better informed or better qualified man for the job in America today.

No two men in public life have worked as closely together as Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Dulles. Not a move of importance has been made by the secretary without the President's advance approval.

A 'Great Secretary'

Mr. Dulles is one of the great secretaries of state in American history. When he said America would meet future attack by "massive retaliation," he expressed what the military chiefs here have in mind, and it served as a momentous warning that has never been withdrawn. It was belittled and ridiculed by narrow-minded partisans and by some critics abroad who quibbled about its true meaning. But the American people knew what it meant. They don't have a pacifist or a blind internationalist heading up the Department of State, nor do they want one there. They have a man who is a realist—a champion of international cooperation, yet, above all else, a staunch American ever watchful of the interests of the people of the United States.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Nov. 6—If I can brush together enough credits, my public will find me on some campus next fall, wearing a beanie, eschewing cross-cuts and doing antics to ingratiate myself with my seniors as a pledge to Sigma Delta Chi, the fraternity of my profession. The world has passed me by, but given years enough, I will catch up and qualify as a cub, at least, in the new school which was beautifully exemplified in an AP story from Cleveland about a strike which tied up all the newspapers.

My old mentor, and he would have chased me down those traditional three flights of stairs from the editorial room to the street if I had ever called him that, used to bang it into our heads that the essentials of a news story were who, what, when, where and either why or how, I disremember which.

His name was Ed Conkle. He was the son of a Methodist minister, he drank two heaping slugs of Old Panther at the Steuben County Bar on Madison street every evening after work, he thought praise spoiled young squirts and he had the heart of gold which was standard equipment in all such bosses except Simon Legree Chapin of the old Evening World and O. K. Bovard, of the Post-Dispatch, both Pultizer papers by coincidence. These two were beaten to bloody pulps hundreds and hundreds of times by inkstained victims of their persecution brooding in Perry's Bar or the Old Planters' Bar, respectively. Historical accuracy compels me to add with regret that these terrible retributions all were strictly rhetorical. As far as my knowledge goes, no reporter ever did take a paste at either of them.

The perfect example of the new journalism, which, in our honorable craft corresponds to the progressive school in which Johnny does not learn to read, said:

"For a lot of greater Clevelanders, that first cup of coffee was a little flat today. They had no local newspaper to go with it. On the way to work and through other routine of daily living, many people were finding out that their newspaper is something like a cigarette. You don' know how much you depend on it until you're out. And, in the irritation of upset routine, they had something in common with their fellow Ohioans in Portsmouth—250 miles away at the opposite end of the state—who have been without telephone service 19 days as a result of a strike.

"Why Joe was an absolute bear this morning," said Carolyn McCarthy, a housewife. "He sat down to breakfast and growled that he supposed he's have to talk to me since he didn't have a paper. All he talked about then was how he missed the paper."

I was tempted to suspect that this was a slaunchwise belt at McCarthyism, but let us not go chasing up that path or we will never get the pig to market.

Then the AP's piece said:

"One of Cleveland's three big dailes is being struck by the Cleveland Newspaper Guild. The two others were closed because their truck drivers refused to haul newspapers which included the nameplate of the struck paper."

But I am not going to impose on the author of this abstract prose poem to do my entire job today. I get a fair living wage and anyway, if I quote him in full he might do me out of my job.

Mr. Conkle would have said, "Coffee is not the subpect of this piece. Nor cigarettes nor the telephone strike in Portsmouth. Just write: 'Cleveland had no local papers today, because the Newspaper Guild struck the Press and the Teamsters refused to hall the News and Plain Dealer.' I can't make this out about 'the nameplate of the struck paper' so clear that up and tell the whole story in the same length that you have used to gossip about coffee and cigarettes and Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy."

I observe with a sense of jobfear that the New Journalism excludes the names of the three Cleveland papers. I am not confident that The Milkman in Omaha, as our Mr. Conkle called the common man, would know that. Therefore, under the old dispensation, assuming that the story was worth telling at all, we would have had all three names in the first sentence. Am I outmoded?

I might not have such a very hard time adjusting. There is nothing really new under the sun and this thing was all the rage around 1915 when it was known as the "narrative" or "up the dark and creaking stairs" school of expression. But though we dallied and cut up hot licks of prose, inevitably, eventually, we told the names of those concerned.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

BY HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—Monologue of a middle-aged man in the street:

Well, the election is over, and if these were normal times the country would be safe for another four years . . . but today nothing really seems safe from change for even the next four minutes.

The world used to operate on a sensible basis . . . it would have a big depression every 10 years, and a big war every 20 or 25 years . . . this gave people time in-between to make love or look up at the stars for comfort.

Those Extra Ulcers

A man don't mind so much getting an ulcer from earning a living, paying off his mortgage, and keeping his kids in school and out of jail . . . it's the extra ulcer he gets that bothers him, the one caused by his monotonous mental diet, a diet of crises . . . you get a warmed-over old crisis for breakfast, a half-baked later crisis for lunch, and a brand new completely raw crisis for dinner . . . the mind simply can't stomach them all.

If it ain't a crisis over maybe the hydrogen bomb will fall, it's a crisis over maybe the cost of living will go up . . . Even the weather is a crisis . . . The climate is getting warmer and in another 10,000 years (just when I finally finish paying off my house) the country may be one vast desert, and what'll that do to property values?

Installment Plan

Then there's always the crisis over peace . . . World peace seems to be pretty much like prosperity in America—It isn't a fixed thing, but is based on the installment plan.

Russia moves tanks into Hungary to preserve freedom and soon the only free Hungarians in the country are those too dead to realize the wonder of it . . . then Russia threatens to put the muscle on Britain, France, and Israel in order to preserve peace in Egypt . . . but Britain, France and Israel don't see the logic of that at all . . . what are they already busy fighting for in Egypt? . . . Why, to preserve the peace, of course.

The Egyptians, too, are fighting to preserve peace with an army developed probably for just that purpose . . . What puzzles me is whether peace can stand much more preserving without winding up embalmed.

Somehow I can't quite get it . . . How is it possible to avoid war by fighting and preserve the peace by breaking it?

The southwestern part of the United States produces more boras than any other part of the world.

Each Party Wins 13 Governors; Four Undecided

(By The Associated Press)

Despite the sweeping Eisenhower victory, Democrats apparently more than held their own in election of governors in Tuesday's balloting.

Of the 30 governorship offices at stake, Democrats captured 13, Republicans 13 with four still undecided this afternoon.

The 26 races decided represented a net gain of one for the Democrats who ousted Republican administrations in Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts and Washington while Republicans turned out Democrats in New Mexico, Ohio and West Virginia.

The four undecided races were in Minnesota, Montana and Rhode Island, where Democrats had slight leads, and in Oregon where the Republican candidate held the edge.

R. I. Race Close

The Rhode Island Race was so close the final result will hinge on some 11,000 absentee ballots still to be counted.

Of the 30 offices at stake, Republicans held 16, Democrats 14 before the balloting started. For the nation as a whole, including holdovers, Democrats held a 27-21 edge over Republicans.

party and its candidates, he told The Freeman. The results "also indicate a great deal of effort on the part of Republican committeemen and workers from the bottom up."

He said there had been a lot of activity at all polling places, that workers had been "on the job" and had helped tremendously in the result.

"We are very grateful to the people of the city for their support and confidence," he said.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock said this morning that he was "very pleased" with the results and expressed appreciation to all who had supported his campaign.

He said he felt the national vote indicated an "overwhelming endrosement" of President Eisenhower and the policies of his administration.

Attorney Charles Gaffney of Kingston, newly elected surrogate, also expressed pleasure in his election, saying he was "very grateful to all committeemen and citizens of the county and city who saw fit to support me in the campaign and past election."

"It looks as if the people are well pleased with the present Republican administration. The vote clearly indicates that the American people appreciate the four years of Republican government under President Eisenhower and endorsed it overwhelmingly by their vote yesterday."

Supervisor Claude Bell of the town of Olive, who was elected Ulster county sheriff, said the results were "most gratifying to me. I certainly thank the voters of Ulster county for the majority they gave me."

He said the election in general showed that the people were "much in favor of the Republican party in our county." He said he felt that much of the fine showing of Republican candidates throughout the nation were due to the general confidence of the people in President Eisenhower and the national party.

County Turns

the 29th Congressional district with a plurality of approximately 73,648 votes over his Democratic opponent, Vincent diGenaro of Poughkeepsie, an unofficial count showed early this afternoon.

"It was by far the best vote I've ever had in the district," the congressman told The Freeman. "I am highly elated, of course."

Thanks Ulster

He said that Ulster county had returned him an "outstanding majority" of which he was highly appreciative.

He said he felt his success was due to excellent Republican organization and "the fact that we must have had a fairly acceptable record of past performance." He said the "head of the ticket" was also of tremendous importance in the results.

"There is nothing like a good head of the ticket," he said.

Must Have Record

"All my county organizations have been very excellent. There were no internal difficulties . . ." In conclusion, he pointed out that "you've got to have a record to run on."

The vote by counties:

Greene county, Wharton, 12,163; diGenaro, 4,847.

Columbia county, Wharton, 17,025; diGenaro 5,994.

Ulster county, Wharton, 37,941; diGenaro, 15,514.

In Dutchess county, Mr. Wharton received a majority of 27,578 and in Schoharie county a majority of 4,696.

Bush Next Senator

Dr. E. Ogden Bush of Walton, Schoharie county, was elected to the State Senate from the 34th district by a plurality of approximately 38,337 votes over his Democratic opponent, William B. Byrne Jr. of Catskill, according to an unofficial count by The Freeman early this afternoon.

Total figures were available in three of the four counties in the district. In Sullivan county only the majority figure was available—showing a 3,072 majority for Dr. Bush.

Total figures in the other three counties:

Greene county—Bush, 10,917; Byrne, 6,176.

Ulster county—Bush, 36,624; Byrne, 18,066.

Delaware county—Bush, 16,092; Byrne, 4,172.

Dr. Bush could not be reached today for a statement.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—The stock market roared ahead to a millioon-share first hour today in celebration of the Eisenhower victory, then simmered down on profit-taking, leaving prices mixed early this afternoon.

In the first wave of jubilant buying, prices of key stocks advanced from fractions to aronud 2 points and the high-speed ticker tape fell four minutes behind in reporting transactions.

It took 46 minutes for the ticker tape to catch up and by that time a few losses had begun to appear in what had been a solid front of gains.

Two Big Uncertainties Removed for Business

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Two of the major uncertainties plaguing business in recent months have been removed today.

1. Business now knows which party will be in the White House for the next four years and the makeup of the Congress for the next two years. Uncertainty over that sent tremors through the stock market a number of times this year.

2. The gullible who were wondering if the Russians had changed their spots now know they haven't. Events in Hungary show that the Russians still behave like Russians. And presumably our foreign policy and business planning can now be tailored to fit the confirmation of that knowledge.

Forecasters' Season

With the election over, the open season for soothsaying gets under way today. From now until Christmas industrial leaders, economists and about everyone else will predict what's in store for business, for the employed and the unemployed.

Unhatched statistics will be counted all over the place.

The trouble with the announced statistics, as far as the soothsayer is concerned, is that they show where we have been—and in the case of many of the government's statistics on business the revelation is of where we were quite some time back.

What those addicted to predicting the future of business need are statistics showing where we are now and where we are going.

Many economists arrive at these by projecting the past statistics into the future—a process about on par for accuracy with long range weather forecasting.

Not All Removed

Not all of the uncertainties have been removed today by any means.

There is the big question whether Britain and France will get by with their venture in Egypt or whether they will just be opening the door for increased Russian penetration of the Middle East and even of the Far East.

And there is the uncertainty as to how long the Russians will get by with their occupation of eastern Europe—even tanks and planes may not be able to hold a subjected people against its will for ever.

At home there is the uncertainty still as to how the consumer will react to the slowly but steadily rising prices on many items that he would like to buy but could live without.

Merchants are basing their prediction of the biggest Christmas trade ever on a free spending mood by a public with more money than ever in its jeans—at least the statistics say the money should be there.

And undoubtedly uncertainties as yet unborn will come forth. American business has lived so long with one crisis after another as to expect new ones to arrive almost as regularly as the seasons.

National Grange Will Consider Ulster Proposals

The Grange proposals which originated in Ulster county are headed for consideration by the National Grange this month, one opposing all federal aid for construction and operation of public schools and the other opposing all government operations which can be done by private corporations, it was reported today.

The two resolutions, submitted by the Ulster Pomona Grange, received the support of the state farm fraternal organization at its 84th annual session in Buffalo last week.

Ulster Delegates

Five Ulster residents, among more than 600 delegates at the four-day meeting, served on important committee assignments on appointment by State Master Leland D. Smith, of Brasher Falls. They were George Mollenhauer, RD 2, New Paltz; Mrs. Jane S. Stanley, RD 1, Catskill; William T. Hookey Jr. Lake Katrine; Mrs. Vera M. Clarke, Milton, and Albert H. Fleischer, St. Remy.

The school construction question which was recommended for action by the National Grange when it convenes Nov. 14-22 in Rochester, notes that "the school districts of New York state have demonstrated a willingness and an ability to meet their own requirements by authorizing nearly $1,900,000,000 for construction since 1950, providing classrooms for over 500,000 additional pupils . . . and must provide many additional classrooms for at least the next five years."

The state Grange-approved resolution believes that "providing federal aid for school construction may serve as the initial step in an increased demand on Congress to provide federal aid for the general operation of schools.

State Grange Concurs

"The responsibility for controlling any governmental operation," it continues, "is fixed on the level of government which is responsible for raising the tax money for its support. New York taxpayers pay more for federal aid programs than the state ever gets back in federal grants, thus placing the state's taxpayers in the position of having less to spend on their own schools, if Congress passes a federal aid for education bill than they would have if the money were raised from state and local taxes."

The state Grange backed up Ulster Pomona in an expression of favoring "local responsibility for public education."

Another Ulster resolution, adopted by the state body, was one calling upon the Conservation Department to declare an open doe season "for one or two days to reduce their number," because "the deer population is becoming destructive in Ulster, Sullivan and Columbia counties, causing unlimited damage to crops on many farms."

Vernon A. Barnhart, Stone Ridge, was reappointed deputy state master for Ulster county for 1957, and Mrs. Claude Palen, Hurley, was renamed juvenile deputy at the state session.

Five Firemen Hurt

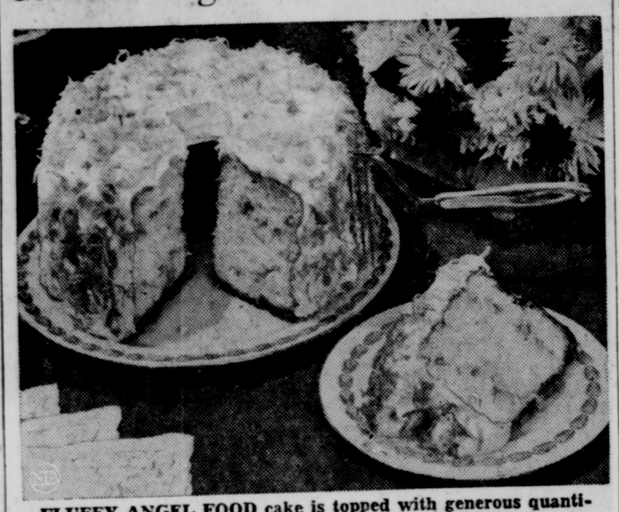

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Five firemen suffered minor burns and smoke poisoning early today while battling a smoky two-alarm fire in the Miyako Skiyaki Restaurant, at 20 West 56th street. The five were injured as they fought their way to safety when flames and smoke burst through the floorboards on the third floor of the building where they were stretching a hose line. Removed to Roosevelt Hospital, were: Battalion Chief Charles Freeman; Lt. Conrad Tolkin, 40, of 211 Harmony Drive, Massapequa, N. Y.; and firemen Albert Jensen, 33, of 66-30 53rd avenue, Maspeth, Queens; Edward Hartman, 27, of 41-30 43rd street, Woodside, Queens; and Anthony Denier, 36, of 299-09 148th avenue, Rosedale, Queens.

Climax the Feast With Coconut Angel Food Cake

FLUFFY ANGEL FOOD cake is topped with generous quantities of coconut. An ingenious recipe makes it easy to mix.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

The idea comes from Menasha, Wis. But women anywhere planning Thanksgiving dinner may welcome it—an angel food cake with lots of coconut added, but no work added.

Here's the sweet story.

Mrs. Laura Clinton of Menasha prided herself on a coconut white cake. It was a butter cake using eight egg whites, coconut milk and freshly grated coconut. However, one day her grocer ran out of fresh coconuts and sent canned coconut instead. At the same time a neighbor suggested she try an angel food mix instead of her eight-egg butter cake. She experimented. Success! Now she plans to serve her new laborless cake for Thanksgiving dessert.

Coconut Angel Food Cake

One package angel food mix, 2 cans (3½ ounces each) tender-thin flaked coconut, Coconut Seven-Minute Frosting.

Prepare angel food mix as directed on package. Pour about one-fourth of the batter into an ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Sprinkle about one-third of one can of coconut over batter. Repeat layering with batter on top. Bake and cool cake as directed on package.

Coconut Seven-Minute Frosting

Make your favorite seven-minute frosting and spread on cake. While frosting is still soft, sprinkle the second can of tender-thin flaked coconut over top and sides of cake.

THANKSGIVING DINNER: Black been soup with lemon slices, roast ducklings, celery stuffing, orange sauce, broiled sweet potato halves, Brussels sprouts, buttered white onions, rye rolls, club rolls, butter or margarine, raw carrot sticks, raw cucumber sticks, olives, radishes, coconut angel food cake, fresh fruit bowl, coffee, tea, milk.

Machines Impounded

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Voting machines in several districts of Manhattan, Brooklyn and Queens and all of Staten Island were ordered impounded today by Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy. Closeness of the votes was given as the reason for the order. The order included several machines in the 17th "Silk Stocking" Congressional District of Manhattan, where unofficial returns gave Rep. Frederic F. Coudert Jr., Republican, a victory over Anthony B. Akers, Democrat-Liberal.

FDR's Son Wins

Los Angeles, Nov. 7 (AP)—Democratic Rep. James Roosevelt, son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, won a second term in the House of Representatives from California's 26th Congressional District. Returns from 293 of the district's 924 precincts gave Roosevelt 12,076 to 5,076 for Republican Edward Gibbons.

Ike Vote Puts Damper on Talk Of Farm Revolt

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—A farm revolt on which the Democrats had counted failed to develop enough steam in yesterday's presidential election to give them any major help.

Outside the south, all the farm states except traditionally Democratic Missouri gave their electoral votes to President Eisenhower.

The Democrats had made Eisenhower Administration farm policies one of their prime issues. They talked about declines in farm prices and incomes during the past four years and promised early action to boost price supports and to take other steps they said would improve the agricultural economy.

Hopes Fizzled

They had accused Eisenhower of going back on 1952 campaign promises in behalf of farmers. The Democrats had looked to Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan and the Dakotas for a revolt of farmers against the GOP.

But their hopes did not materialize.

Incomplete returns indicated that in a number of midwestern states the Eisenhower vote in some rural areas ran behind that of four years ago, but the shift was far from sufficient to carry the states into the Democratic electoral column.

Farm dissatisfaction appeared to have made its strongest showing in South Dakota congressional races. But Eisenhower carried the state, although his majority was smaller than four years ago.

LAND OF ISRAEL—BORN OF WAR—

Newsmap at left, above, outlines the short but stormy life of the eight-year-old state of Israel. Surrounded as it is by implacably hostile Arab states, Israel may be fighting for its very existence if the present conflict develops into all-out war. Newsmap at right shows Israel at its birth, May 14, 1948. UN had partitioned Palestine to divide it between the antagonistic Jews and Arabs. Formal proclamation of Israel was the signal for Arab attack precipitating the 1948 war, which Israel won.

Shaky Cease-Fire

cers had volunteered for service in Egypt.

The Egyptian ambassador to Red China reported in Hong Kong that 250,000 Chinese Communists had volunteered to join "Egypt's struggle against aggression."

British and French forces which seized the northern end of the Suez Canal zone in an invasion launched Monday were under orders to hold their fire unless attacked.

The government - controlled Cairo radio told Egyptians there was a cease-fire, but ordered them to resume fighting "if the enemy shoots or advances one inch."

Military headquarters on both sides were silent. There was no official word of any violation of the cease-fire, but a spokesman at British-French headquarters at Cyprus said the situation was "very fluid."

There was no final word on the position of the British-French paratroops and commandos which had captured Port Said and Port Fuad at the north end of the canal. The French defense ministry said yesterday French forces also had taken Ismailia at the midway point of the canal, but news dispatches from Cyprus said the last word from the French yesterday was that they were pushing south toward Ismailia.

Sees Long Canal Job

One firm word from the Suez area was that British and French forces already were at work trying to clear the canal in which at least nine ships were sunk during the fighting. But Lord Rotherwick, a director of the Old Suez Canal Company, said it was to be at least a month and maybe three months before the canal would be open to traffic.

Moscow radio charged that the conditions under which Britain and France accepted the UN call for cease-fire were "incompatable both with the national sovereignty of Egypt and the UN charter.

"One must stress that only the first step has been made, the British, French and Israeli forces are still on Egyptain territory."

Morse Is Victor For Oregon Seat

Portland, Ore., Nov. 7 (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse today won a third term — his first after switching to the Democrats — defeating former Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay by a slowly but definitely widening margin.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 7 (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse, Democratic arch-enemy of the Eisenhower administration, built up a steadily increasing lead today in his fight for a third term.

While President Eisenhower was well ahead in the contest for Oregon's six electoral votes, Morse had a narrow lead over Doug McKay, Republican ex-governor who resigned as secretary of the interior to oppose Morse.

Incomplete returns from 1,877 of the 2,532 precincts gave Morse 194,361 to 179,033 for McKay.

President Eisenhower, in the same number of precincts, was ahead of Adlai Stevenson 212,194 to 164,098. This gave the President 56 per cent of the vote. A smaller margin than the 63 per cent he had at the same stage of the counting four years ago. He ended up with 60.8 per cent of the 1952 vote.

Complete Estes' Defeat

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 7 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver's defeat in yesterday's vice presidential election was a complete one for the Tennessee Democrat. He lost nationally, statewide and in both of his "home" counties. Hamilton county (Chattanooga), where Kefauver practiced law before going to Congress, voted Republican by more than 6,000 votes and Monroe county (Madisonville), his birthplace, gave the GOP ticket an edge of about 1,000. And to top it off, the nearby Lookout Mountain precinct in which he cast his vote overwhelmingly defeated him, 789 to 163.

Not all birds have feathers.

Archdeacon Visits St. Gregory's Church

Woodstock, Nov. 7—St. Gregory's Episcopal Church was honored Sunday by a visit from Archdeacon George F. Bratt of the New York Diocese, who delivered the morning sermon.

The Archdeacon expressed much gratification over the completion of the building and said that at convocation meetings throughout the Diocese, St. Gregory's has been cited as a shining example of the ability of a small group of worshippers to erect a church in the service of God and community. He noted with special favor the establishment of a church school for the children of the parish.

At the services of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, its vicar, the Rev. Herald C. Swezy, inauguarated a church school for children of the parish. There are two classes, one for children through six years and another for children from seven to 10 years.

The teachers for these classes at present are Mrs. Elbert Matthews, Miss Florence Elgan and Mrs. Leslie G. Jenkins. Older children will attend regular services. The Rev. Mr. Swezy especially urges parents to bring their small children to Sunday service.

The Ladies' Guild of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church will hold its monthly meeting at the church, Wednesday, Nov. 14, at 3 p. m. All ladies of the parish are invited to attend.

Proposal Turned Down

New Delhi, Nov. 6 (AP)—A Soviet proposal to give Nationalist China's seat in UNESCO to the Peiping Communist regime has been turned down again. It was the 140th time since 1950 that a UN body has rejected a move to admit Red China. The credentials committee of the UN educational organization meeting here rejected the latest move. Peiping's supporters said they would take the question to the conference floor.

Sacrifice Would Save Slam Score

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

It was reasonable for South to reach a contract of six spades in today's hand. He could make this bid with the slightest luck in spades, hearts, or diamonds, and actually succeeded even though all three suits broke badly.

Not so reasonable was East's decision to pass at six spades. East hoped to defeat the spade slam, but could not be sure of doing so. It would have been far safer to take the sacrifice at seven clubs, giving up a small amount instead of risking a big loss.

West led the singleton heart against the contract of six spades. Declarer won with the ace of hearts and led a trump to dummy's ace. He next returned a diamond from the dummy, and East properly discarded a club. It would have done him no good to ruff.

South won with the ace of diamonds, continued with the king and queen of hearts, and ruffed dummy's last heart in his own hand. He then led a trump, forcing East to win with the king.

East now had to return either a heart or a club. In either case dummy could ruff while South discarded the losing jack of diamonds. The slam was thus assured.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

The other day I used an item sent from Florida by Anthony and Sophie Vetoskie, former Ulster county residents. They read this paper and the Miami Herald, from where they sent an item on Ulster county calling Onteora trail, the Land of the Sky.

One of my neighbors, Mrs. Vilma Ruchman comes from the section described as the Land of the Sky. She brought me a booklet on the famous Grand Hotel when it was first opened in the early 1800's. She says this monument to gracious living is still in operation today. To the original building has been added the casino, swimming pool, solarium, etc.

Mrs. Ruchman spends her summer up in the Catskills and for the winter is my neighbor at Spring and Post street, so I must ask her more about it. She told me that Julia Marlowe, the English born, American actress who was famous for her Shakespearean revivals with E. H. Southern built a beautiful summer home up there which is now owned by Dr. Cava.

Also, in the 1920's, Amelita Galli-Curci, American coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera built a beautiful home there, called Soul House. She also told me about the famous Fleischmann's family who built several magnificent homes in Griffin's Corners, later that name was changed to Fleischmann's Village, which is about two miles from the Grand Hotel.

Later more hotels were erected in Fleischmanns and it became a well-known summer resort. I always feel, that sooner or later a magnificent view will bring folks to build and enjoy the location, even if from far productive cities already established. Then others will follow from the cities to the new locations.

Mrs. Ruchman loaned me a little book called "New Grand Hotel" western Catskill Mountains. I take it to be around 1884 for that is the date of the analysis of the water by the Philadelphia Polyclinic, Chemical Laboratory, dated April 14, 1884. They write to the owners of the Grand Hotel J. and S. J. Cornell, in part: "Gentlemen: I have examined a sample of water from the Grand Hotel, Catskill Mountains, and find the same to be of high purity, containing only one and a half grains of solid matter to the gallon. This consists of sodium chloride, sodium sulphate and calcium carbonate principally. I regard this water as eminent suitable for the supply to hotel or summer resort. There can be no question that one of the most important requirements in such places is a supply of pure water, and especially a supply of such character as will enable it to be used freely by all persons. The sample examined, fulfills all requirements here indicated in a manner that leaves nothing to be desired." signed H. Leffman.

The Grand Hotel claimed three important points, the purity of drinking water, the dryness of the atmosphere and perfect drainage, also free from fog and dampness and air fresh, pure and invigorating as the hotel is 2,500 feet above sea level.

In describing their Diamond Spring from which the water is "clear as a crystal," they said, "It is uncontaminated with vegetable matter or foreign substance of any kind, as it flows directly from the crevices of the rocks into a large reservoir, which supplies the hotel. It never fails, and it flows over 90,000 gallons daily. . . Nothing is more essential to good health than pure water."

Ribbons in Dozens

Chase City, Va. (AP)—Mrs. A. E. Harris and Mrs. Alma Allgood, sisters, have won so many blue and red ribbons for needle work and canning at fairs that they have made seven sofa pillows from them. Now they are planning a quilt.

Raked It In

Marshfield, Wis. (AP)—A youngster sent outside to rake leaves returned a short time later and handed her older sister a stack of currency she had picked up in the yard. The find was reported to police. A bit later, the housewife called the police and said it was her own money. In her absence, she said, the older daughter had washed some draperies and had hung them on the line to dry. The money, about $120, sewed into the hem of the drapes, dislodged and was blown about in the breeze. The younger daughter picked up most of it.

Betty Grable Happiest When Not Working, Family Is First

Hollywood, Nov. 7 (AP) — "I haven't been working and I couldn't be happier. I never was really hot for a career, anyway."

This was the frank remark of Betty Grable, wartime queen of the box office and possessor of the legs that launched millions of pinup pictures.

Betty, who is as attractive as ever, was back at work for an appearance on Dinah Shore's NBC-TV show. But she made no secret of the fact that she was eager to return to her family and horses.

Tries to Stall Agents

"I'm having the time of my life," she remarked. "Once in a while my agents call me about doing some work and if I can't stall them off, I'll do it. But I couldn't care less.

"I never really had any great drive for my career. It was my mother who wanted it. She started me out at 5 and kept me at it. She wasn't the stage mother type; she just enjoyed the studio life. Even now she's mad at me for not working more."

Betty's outlook was soured by two experiences: 1. Her last picture at 20th Century-Fox, "How to Be Very, Very Popular," which she termed "incredibly bad"; 2. Her recent Las Vegas Hotel date, during which she said she was harassed by the management and nearly suffered a nervous breakdown.

Show Business Different

"If that's the way show business is today," she said, "I don't want any part of it."

She said she'll do a picture or TV show if the right thing comes along. Meanwhile she'll devote herself to her two growing daughters, Hubby Harry James and their horses.

"We're really in the horse business," Betty reported. "Harry's up at Golden Gate Park now and we've got 21 horses running. It's not just a hobby with us. We've got a going concern and turn a profit every month."

Wonderful Life

She said they can keep in the black by traveling to the five California tracks, which offer almost year-round racing. At Tanforan and Golden Gate up north, she and Harry live in motels near the tracks. During the summer, the whole family goes to Del Mar, and Betty and Harry commute to Hollywood Park and Santa Anita from their Beverly Hills home.

"It's a wonderful life," she enthused. "I've noticed that people who work around the tracks stay young and active despite their years. Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons (81-year-old trainer of Nashua) is an example. It's common to see trainers and handlers in their 80s.

"They get up early and go to bed early; they're outdoors most of the time. No wonder they stay young. I'm hoping it'll do the same for me."

TO MEET FRIENDS

"When a near relative visits me, is it my place to take her to the houses of my best friends to introduce her to them or should they come to my house to meet her? There is a difference of opinion, about this."

It is best to invite them to come to see her. Having done so, they will probably—if they can—ask you to bring her to their houses. If they can't there is no rudeness incurred on their part.

Only a Fork

Dear Mrs. Post: On which side should the fork be placed when no knife is required and none is provided? Some say on the left as always, but it seems to me that when a fork is to be picked up in the right hand and used without a knife that the most convenient and common sense place to put it would be on the right. What is the verdict?

Answer: It would be quite permissible to place it on the right since it is to be picked up in the right hand.

Shower Present as Wedding Present

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is to be a bridesmaid at a wedding. She gave a shower for the bride-to-be several weeks ago at our house and I gave her a very lovely shower present. My daughter also gave her a very nice present in addition to the shower. I have received an invitation to the wedding and reception and I would like to know if I must buy her another present.

Answer: The shower present does not take the place of a wedding present. The shower present should have been a trifle, whereas the wedding present is important.

What size should table napkins be, and how should they be folded? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but you will find the answers to these questions included in leaflet W-32, "Table Linen." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Holiday Preparations In Progress Now At League Exchange

The Junior League Exchange located at 45 Crown street is already buzzing with the Christmas spirit as members of the league gather together to work on the popular Christmas Corner.

This year the Exchange will include such items as ceramics, knitted articles, handmade gifts, Christmas decorations, dolls' clothing, baked goods, toys, children's handmade clothing and even candles.

Money received through the sale of items at the Exchange is the only means of fund raising for support of the civic activities of the Junior League of Kingston.

To participate in the Junior League Exchange, it is not necessary to be a League member.

Any person desiring to sell an article of clothing may do so by visiting the Exchange and paying the regular year's fee.

All clothing must be freshly laundered or dry cleaned and in good condition, style, and seasonal.

Any article of clothing which is not sold within three months after date of acceptance must be removed within one week otherwise it will become the property of the Exchange.

For the Christmas holidays, consignors will receive 75 per cent of the selling price while the exchange will receive 25 per cent. Consignors will receive 85 per cent on all food items.

Won't Visit Russia

London, Nov. 7 (AP)—Britain's famous Sadler's Wells Ballet today canceled its Moscow engagement in protest against Russia's bloody repression of the Hungarian revolt. Officials of the ballet, after conferring with the government, telegraphed Moscow: "In view of public opinion in this country, which strongly condemns the renewed suppression by Soviet forces of Hungarian liberty and independence, . . . it has been unanimously agreed that in the present circumstances the projected visit of the . . . ballet to Moscow cannot take place."

Why We Say--

RELIGIOUS: According to the children, if you keep your fingers crossed, a lie doesn't count. The idea probably alludes to the religious practice of making the sign of the cross before starting prayers (a devout practice in the Roman Catholic and other churches). Oddly enough, it is not common in countries outside of America, and seems to have been started entirely by children.

It has taken a few days to get around to it, but we confess getting a jolt from Coach Sam Kalloch's recent harangue with a Poughkeepsie sports writer.

It appears that at the end of the half in the game between Poughkeepsie and highly-favored Newburgh Academy Goldbacks, the Pioneers were leading 14-13 and Poughkeepsie rooters were thinking in terms of a major upset.

Sam suddenly unloaded on the unsuspecting Poughkeepsie New Yorker reporter, accusing him of "favoring every team except Poughkeepsie." And he went on:

"Now you will have a good story to write if we lose."

According to the New Yorker account, the reporter, who had been following the play from the Poughkeepsie sidelines, as is the custom of every loyal reporter, started to walk away, but Coach Kalloch followed him, charging that the Poughkeepsie New Yorker had been "trying for 31 years to have me fired."

"Nobody else has the guts to talk about the paper," Sam added, explaining that he wasn't "afraid."

As the reporter continued to take notes about the game, Kalloch loudly said to him that he would like to meet the sports writers and others of the newspapers "in a dark alley some night." He then ordered the reporter off the Poughkeepsie sidelines and said he would "call a policeman and have you thrown off the field," the New Yorker reported.

The reporter crossed to the Newburgh side of the field and continued his coverage from there. History reports that Coach Sam spent a highly miserable second half without the comforting nearness of the reporter non grata, as the Goldbacks broke the game wide open to roll up a 39-14 victory.

We wouldn't know what incident or incidents triggered Sam's explosion against the Bridge City scribe. But if he was shooting at George Palmateer, the sports editor, or Eddie Palladino, the assistant, he was way off base. With all due respect to Sam's opinion, we know that Palmateer and Palladino have done a tremendous job of blowing the Kalloch and Poughkeepsie bugle over the years.

Palmateer and Palladino have been loyal supporters of Sam Kalloch and Poughkeepsie athletes. Their public relations job on Charlie Johnson and Big Monty Stickles were classics. Stickles is currently ensconced at Notre Dame with high prospects of being a standout sophomore in football next fall.

If Kalloch had sat in on a few torrid DUSO League Sportswriters' Association meetings and seen and heard Palmateer and Palladino battle like a couple of wildcats to get Poughkeepsie athletes named to first teams in football and basketball. And heard them extol Sam Kalloch in passionate bids to have Sam named Coach of the Year, we're sure he would have found no basis for his current displeasure with the two talented and fair-minded young men who dispense the sports news to the Poughkeepsie public. They came to meetings armed with statistics and photos of Pioneer athletes they figured should be on the teams. When beaten in close votes, they accepted the decision of the majority gracefully and without rancor. But they never stopped blowing the horn for Sam Kalloch and his kids.

That's why the events of Oct. 27 at Poughkeepsie makes us feel a little sad.

Hartley and Minasian Champs at Twaalfskill

A tested veteran and a comparative newcomer to competitive golf circles have won flight championships at the Twaalfskill Club.

The veteran, Henry Hartley, the Saugerties mortician, defeated Fabian L. Russell, 5 and 4, for the Class A championship.

Eddie Minasian, onetime Kingston High and Yellow Jacket football star, captured the Class C crown with a victory over Floyd W. Flint.

The two flights were played with three-quarter handicap and 18-hole finals.

En route to the Class A bauble, Hartley defeated Howard St. John, 5 and 4; Gene Jordan, 4 and 2, after surviving a first round squeaker against Burt Davis, 1 up in 19 holes.

Russell checked Robert O'Reilly, 3 and 2, in a semi-final match, after beating Dr. Jack Lehner, 3 and 1, and J. W. Johnson, 5 and 4.

In the C competition, Minasian defeated James Quinn in a first round match and advanced on default by Louis R. Netter. In the semi-finals, he whipped Charlie Vogel.

Flint was a first-round winner by the bare margin of 1 up over Gus Brinnier. He beat Harold F. King by the same margin, before winning over Bill Merrill, 3 and 2, in the semi-finals.

KHS Frosh Play NFA to Scoreless Tie

The Kingston High school freshman football team had to settle for a scorless tie in their finale of the season Monday against Newburgh Free Academy.

Two great goal line stands in the final period enabled the Maroons to escape with the deadlock. Kingston, who had beaten NFA 6-0 earlier, wound up the year with a 4 won, 1 lost 1 tie record.

Terry Kalish and Milan Pece, an end and tackle respectively, were the defensive stars for KHS. Kalish was directly responsible for repulsing a Newburgh drive that reached the Maroon's four yard line midway through the final period. Shortly after that, Pece joined Kalish in halting a surge on Kingston's nine. The second thrust was made possible when quarterback Cliff Miller fumbled and NFA recovered on the 10.

Also starring for the Maroons was halfback Terry Kelly and end Ron Hamilton. Kelly intercepted a NFA pass at a critical moment while Hamilton kept breaking through for key tackles.

Newburgh ended its year with two wins, one loss and two ties.

Bold Ruler Upset By Ambehaving In Remsen Stakes

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Bold Ruler remained the biggest riddle of horse racing today, while Ambehaving became a colt to be reckoned with in the Kentucky Derby and other big 3-year-old classics next year.

Ambehaving, owned by the Bohemia Stable of Mrs. Richard C. Dupont, Wilmington, Del., took charge in the stretch at Jamaica yesterday and scampered to a 2½ length victory in the $96,150 Remsen Stakes.

Bold Ruler, who won the Belmont Futurity for the Wheatley Stable, ran last in a field of 11 in the mile and one sixteenth race for 2-year-olds. It was the second consecutive bad race for Bold Ruler, trained by Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons and ridden by Eddie Arcaro.

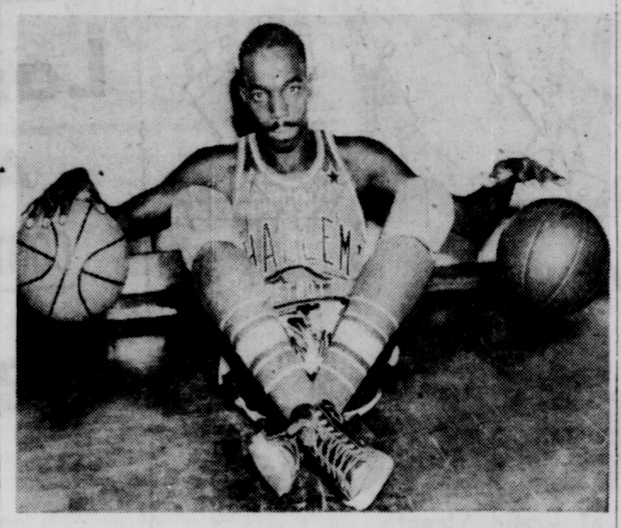

In the $319,210 Garden State Stakes, Bold Ruler finished 17th after stumbling and almost going down on the final turn. Calument's Barbizon won that one, while Ambehaving finished fourth.

In the Remsen, Bold Ruler got a poor start, found himself in a jam on the first turn, and when he finally found room on the backstretch, refused to extend himself.

The crowd of 40,318 had sent Bold Ruler off as the odds-on favorite. Ambehaving, ridden by Logan Batcheller, was second choice at shortly less than 6-1. Ambehaving caught John A. Morris' Missile in the stretch, while Mrs. Arvilla P. O'Tolle's Irish bred Finlandia, a 70-1 shot, came in third.

Braves Sign Pitcher

Milwaukee, Nov. 7 (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves have signed Gerald Hinman, 17, a righthanded pitcher from Troy, N. Y., to a 1957 contract with their Wellsville, N. Y., farm team. Signing of Hinman for the Class D Pony League was announced yesterday.

Harry's Angels Meet Newburgh Powerhouse

A powerful Newburgh quintet — Economy Dry Cleaners, coached by Stan Levinson—will meet Harry's Angels of the YMCA "A" League in the preliminary to the Harlem Globetrotter-Philadelphia Sphas game here on Tuesday, Nov. 20.

The Hill City area's best cagers have been banded together by Coach Levinson for what should be a high grade prelim.

Dave Latimer, former Seton Hall star, and John Holland, a 6 foot 7 Stewart Air Feld ace, head the Newburgh roster.

Ex-NFA Stars

Other well-known mid-Hudson area name players with Levinson are Ralph Petrillo, George Handler, Gus Westerhouse, Frank Coulard, Jay Hodges and Jack Fanning, most of them former Newburgh Academy stars under Coach George S. Masterson.

The Angels roster features a couple of newcomers — Lloyd Tice of Buffalo and Bill O'Dea of Rochester now employed at IBM. Both are described as good floor men and shooters.

The remainder of the Angel roster will show Skip Brodhead, John Zatorski, who played varsity ball at Canisius, Big Bill Knott, Lafayette (Champ) Holstein, Bud Scheffel, Eric Goercke and Ward Dunham.

Olympic Village Voters

Melbourne, Nov. 6 (AP)—Two Americans in Australia voted today in the United States presidential election. They were Olympic rowing technician George O. Pocock and his wife, of Seattle, who mailed their ballot papers at Olympic Village.

Strez Captures Light-Heavy Bout

Montevideo, Uruguay, Nov. 7 (AP)—German boxer Hans Stretz, a leading contender for Archie Moore's light-heavyweight crown, was declared the winner of a battle with Dogomar Martinez of Montevideo early today after members of the National Boxing Commission had rectified an error on one of the official's cards.

Stretz, ranked second by the National Boxing Assn., appeared to be an easy winner in the bout here last night, but the vote of the three officials called the bout a draw. Later inspection of the judges' cards, however, showed that one was incorrectly totaled.

Martinez, South American champion, was knocked down in the fourth round for a count of six. Martinez, whose only previous defeat was to Moore in 1953, fought back gamely to stay the distance.

Weekly Football Picks

Georgia Tech Given Slight Edge Over Vols

BY HAROLD CLASSEN

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Using some of Tuesday's slightly used ballots to pick this weekend's college football winners. Last week's voting brought 38 winners from 46 decisions. That's an average of .826 and hiked the season's figures to 244 right, 71 wrong for .774.

This week's picks:

Georgia Tech over Tennessee: the season's Dixie masterpiece could be as close at last year's 7-7 tie. Georgia Tech's slick senior backfield foursome and the home field give the Engineers a slight edge over Johnny Majors and the Volunteers.

Minnesota Pick

Minnesota over Iowa; this is a your TV morsel for Saturday afternoon. Both are in the running for the Big Ten Rose Bowl trip. Bobby Cox to keep the Gophers on the Pasadena path.

Oklahoma over Iowa State: the Sooners had their 1956 scare at Colorado last weekend.

Michigan State over Purdue: Len Dawson, Purdue's famed flinger, not up to par.

Stanford over Oregon State; John Brodie is the decisive factor. The winner of this one becomes No. 1 in Rose Bowl parade.

Clemson over Maryland: What a perfect spot for an upset.

Pardee Too Much

Texas A&M over Southern Methodist: Jack Pardee and his hard hitting mates take another step toward the Southwest Conference flag.

Duke over Navy; It has been a dismal season for the Blue Devils, but every cloud has its silver lining.

Syracuse over Holy Cross: Jim Brown and Jim Ridlon make up one of the country's better halfback combinations.

Ohio State over Indiana; too many Buckeyes.

Colorado over Missouri: a Colorado victory would insure the team a visit to Miami's Orange Bowl New Year's Day.

Michigan Over Illinois

Michigan over Illinois: the Illini have returned to normal.

Pittsburgh over Notre Dame: this is not Notre Dame's year.

Southern California over California: even though Jon Arnett is gone the Trojans keep rolling along.

Skipping over the others:

(East:)

Army over William & Mary, Brown over Cornell, Colgate over Bucknell, Dartmouth over Columbia, Delaware over Rutgers, Penn State over Boston University, Princeton over Harvard, Villanova over The Citadel, Yale over Pennsylvania.

TV 10-Rounder

Logart Pick Over Harris

Chicago, Nov. 7 (AP)—Issac Logart, a familiar ring performer to television audiences, tonight will try to block Clarence (Duke) Harris' climb up the welterweight ladder.

Logart, winner of 6 of 7 starts this year, is a 2-1 choice in the nationally beamed 10-rounder (10 p. m. EST, ABC) which marks the TV main event debut of the 24-year-old Detroit fighter.

Harris, a swarmer who keeps his opponents off balance as much as possible, jumped to No. 7 ranking by scoring a unanimous 10 round decision over Ramon Fuentes last June 23. He has a record 22-3-1 since turning pro three years ago.

Logart, who used to spar with Kid Gavilan in his native Cuba, piled up six straight victories this year before dropping a split decision to Casper Ortega in Boston Oct. 17.

Although only 22, Logart has had 56 fights. He has scored 18 knockouts, won 27 by decision, and lost only 6 while being held to a draw 5 times.

By Thunder to Race In International

London, Nov. 6 (AP) — J. S. Gerbery today accepted an invitation to run his thoroughbred, By Thunder, in the Washington, D. C., International at Laurel race course next Monday.

By Thunder, a five-year-old, will leave for the United States tomorrow and probably will be ridden by an American jockey, Gerber said. By Thunder won the Ebor Handicap at York in 1954.

The dinner will be held at the VFW Hall on Delaware avenue.

Leehive was chairman of the Athletic Committee and with Bernard Feeney, then president, was instrumental in luring Burke from Highland High to Kingston.

About 25 players are expected to attend. Vince DeLuca and Owen "Babe" Riggins, are co-chairmen of the event. Dick McCarthy, of the Freeman editorial staff, will be the toastmaster.

Aussie Race Won By Evening Peal

Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 6 (AP) — Evening Peal, the best mare on the Australian race tracks, won the Melbourne Cup, Australia's biggest horse race, at Flemington track today.

All Australia stopped work to listen to the broadcast of the two-mile handicap in which most Australians have some sort of financial interest.

Evening Peal, starting 15-1 in the betting, won by half a neck from the New Zealand favorite, Red Craze, at 7-4, with 12-1 Chance Caranna half a head away for third.

The time of 3 minutes, 19½ seconds equalled the Australian record.

Syracuse's Brown Near Orange Mark

Syracuse, Nov. 6—A 104-yard performance against Penn State last Saturday afternoon has pushed fleet halfback Jim Brown within 119 yards of a new Syracuse University one-season individual rushing mark.

The hard-running Manhasset, N. Y., senior, a bonafide All-American candidate, now has 687 yards gained in six games, an average of 114.5 yards per contest. The present Orange standard-bearer is George Davis, who galloped 805 yards in 1949.

Saturday, when Syracuse hopes to up its season's ledger to 6-1 against a rapidly-improving Holy Cross array, could be the day when Brown goes over the top.

Big Jim has already rushed 165, 154 and 125 yards on given days this fall, and against such name teams as West Virginia, Maryland and Army.

Against Holy Cross last fall, during a 49-9 Orange triumph, Brown moved for a total of 220 yards, one of his biggest afternoons of the campaign.

Gillom Waivers Asked

Cleveland, Nov. 6 (AP)—The Cleveland Browns today asked waivers on Horace Gillom, veteran end and punting specialist, to make room for Jim Ray Smith, a defensive end.

Wertz Captures Comeback of Year Laurels for AL

By BEN OLAN

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Vic Wertz, whose recovery from a sometimes crippling disease gave renewed hope to similarly-afflicted thousands, made the American League Comeback-of-the-Year in 1956.

Wertz, who fell victim to polio in Aug. 1955, received the votes of 105 of the 178 members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America participating in the annual Associated Press poll.

Vic Wertz

Top Slugger

The Cleveland first baseman regained his position as one of the game's outstanding sluggers the past season by walloping 32 home runs and driving in 106 runs. He led the Indians in both departments and was second in the league in homers and third in RBIs.

Charley Maxwell, Detroit outfielder, was runnerup in the balloting with 17 votes. He was followed by Dick Gernert of Boston with 12, Chuck Stobbs of Washington with 10 and Mel Parnell of the Red Sox with five.

Wertz, although he batted only .264 last season picked up the power slack caused by the slumps of Al Rosen, Al Smith and Bobby Avila. He played in 136 of the Indians' 155 games, being sidelined briefly with a pulled leg muscle.

Polio Attack

Vic's polio attack shocked the baseball world. He is a strapping fellow, 6 feet tall and weighs 195 pounds.

After only two weeks in a hospital, however, Wertz returned to his home in Detroit. His recovery was quick and in March he reported to Cleveland's spring training quarters in reasonably good shape.

"I'm lucky I had the nonparalytic type of polio," he said. "I just hope I have a good year to show others they can fight their way back.

"People can beat this thing if they catch it in time. The most important thing is to check with their doctors right away if they get the symptoms."

31 Years Old

Wertz is 31-years-old and a native of York, Pa.

Other players who received votes were Frank Lary of Detroit 4; Bob Nieman of Baltimore 3; Gil McDougald and Enos Slaughter of the Yankees, Gerry Staley of the White Sox, Ted Williams of Boston, Harry Simpson of Kansas City and Paul Foytack, Detroit, 2 each; Early Wynn, Cleveland, Mickey Vernon and Tom Brewer of Boston, Roy Sievers, Washington, George Kell, Baltimore, Bob Wilson, Detroit and Jack Harshman, White Sox, 1 each.

The Yankee and Detroit teams also had votes but only players were eligible for comeback honors.

Cardinals Raise Wehmeier's Pay

St. Louis, Nov. 6 (AP)—Herm Wehmeier, righthanded pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, today won a salary boost for 1957 and became the first Redbird player to sign a new contract.

Frank Lane, general manager of the Cardinals, said the 29-year-old pitcher had received 'a raise commensurate with the improvement in his pitching.' Wehmeier won 12 games, the most in his major league career.

It was reported Wehmeier will receive about $15,000.

Olympic Torch Leaves Singapore

Singapore, Nov. 6 (AP) — The Olympic torch, symbol of peace in a smoldering world, crossed the Equator today for the first time in history.

A quantas Empire Airways plane carried the torch into the Southern Hemisphere 30 minutes after it left Singapore. The torch will be carried into Melbourne to open the 1956 Olympics Nov. 22.

It will arrive in Darwin tonight, flown to Cairns and runners will then carry it the remaining 2,732 miles to Melbourne.

Brodey's Lanes of Indianapolis led the team shooting with hefty totals of 3211 and 1120. . . .At the moment it takes 680 and 259 or better to make the national honor roll for women.

Bailey Selected Top Sophomore in National League

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Ed Bailey, who contributed 28 home runs to Cincinnati's major league record-equalling output of 221 today was voted the National League's Sophomore-of-the-Year for 1956.

The 25-year-old catcher drew 71 votes and barely beat out Ken Boyer for the award. The St. Louis third baseman was named on 68 of the 206 ballots cast by members of the Baseball Writers Association of America participating in the annual Associated Press poll.

Pittsburgh outfielder Bill Virdon, the NL Rookie-of-the-Year while playing with the Cardinals in 1955, wound up third in the voting with 57 votes. Relief pitcher Don Bessent of Brooklyn received five votes and Roberto Clemente, another Pirate outfielder, four.

Moon Ineligible

Wally Moon was named on one ballot, but the Cards' outfielder was ineligible for the award because he was third-year man.

Bailey was just a second-string catcher behind veteran Smoky Burgess at the season's outset, but gained a regular berth as a result of his prolific batting. Besides his surprising home run production, the husky Tennessean also wound up with an even .300 batting average and 75 RBI's.

This was in direct contrast to his disappointing rookie season of 1954 when he hit only .197 and poked nine homers in 73 games.

Preparations Proceeding

Communist China Withdraws From Melbourne Olympics

Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 7 (AP)—Preparations for the Olympic Games proceeded at full blast today, unaffected by the announcement Communist China was withdrawing its team because of the presence of a Nationalist Chinese group from Formosa.

The chief executive officer, Sir William Bridgeford, reiterated the games will not be endangered unless there is a general world war.

Actually, tensions eased considerably, with the first Russian delegation ensconced at the Olympic village of Heidelburg and holding workouts as if unaware of fighting between Hungarian and Russian forces in Hungary. There have been no incidents.

Planes Landing

Giant planes continue landing in clusters at Essendon Airport daily, swelling the population of the Olympic village.

The Olympic office has not received official word of the withdrawal from the Communist Chinese group.

Communist China said it was withdrawing formally on the grounds the Nationalist Chinese group is an "outlaw band" which should not be tolerated.

Olympic officials are regretful of the move but are not overly concerned.

Similar Incident

They recall a similar incident occurred in the 1952 games at Helsinki. There, Communist and Nationalist Chinese groups battled over recognition and finally Communist China refused to compete although it later sent a token team. Nationalist China also failed to compete through a technicality.

At that time there also was friction between East and West German forces but this has been eased and two planeloads of a combined German team arrived here with a spirit of friendliness.

"We are one team—not feeling of East and West," said the leader of the combined German team, Gerhard Stoeck.

Combined Team

"The combined team was formed at a big All-German conference in Cologne two weeks ago. The spirit of mutual comradeship is very strong and it will continue throughout the Olympics."

The total German team is 220, including officials, of which 37 are from East Germany in the Soviet sphere.

A small Nationalist Chinese force already is in the village with their flag flying. This flag which involved in a touchy incident earlier, when the Red Chinese flag was raised by mistake.

The Olympic organizing committee said no word has been received from Holland or Spain, both of which withdrew yesterday.

Olympic Games Plane Start Delayed

Los Angeles, Nov. 6 (AP) — A charter flight taking American athletes and officials to the Olympic games in Australia had to turn back today shortly after taking off.

Pan-American Airlines said the landing gear of the big DC 7C couldn't be raised due to a minor malfunction. The plane returned to International Airport.

After the aircraft was checked over 64 athletes and officials were airborne again two hours and 54 minutes.

To Conserve Energy

Hibernation by certain birds is merely a mechanism for conserving energy, reports a group of University of California zoologists.

'WE'RE GOING THAT-A-WAY'—Charlie Dumas, left, bends an ear as Fortune Gordien, center, and Hal Connolly point in the general direction of Australia before taking off Nov. 6 for Melbourne and the 1956 Olympics. All three are world record holders—Dumas in the high jump, Gordien in the discus and Connolly in the hammer throw, although Connolly's mark, 13 feet in excess of the recognized record, is yet to be accepted. Mariles Leads Mexico to Title In Horse Show

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—The National Horse Show ended last night but not before Brig. Gen. Humberto Mariles of Mexico had added another blue ribbon performance to the masterful rides that had won him three individual championships.

In a dramatic finish, Gen. Mariles, the last of 15 competitors, engineered a perfect ride aboard his mount, Chihuahua II, to clinch the perpetual challenge trophy for the Mexican three-man team.

Ireland placed second. Canada and the United States tied for third and Chile was last.

The final sessions were given over to championship awards. Among the more notable champions was Riviera Wonder, who retained the open jumper championship.

Gressick-Bruhn Tie Caddie Event

Bob Gressick and Mike Bruhn tied with net scores of 133 in the 36-hole Junior medal caddie championship at the Twaalfskill Club.

They will receive identical awards.

Gressick and Bruhn both posted 161 gross scores and had combined handicap of 28 strokes. The former put together rounds of 86 and 75. Bruhn spliced 81-80.

Richie Bartell finished eight strokes behind the leaders with 181-40—141.

Bob Roos had a gross of 162, only one stroke higher than Gressick and Bruhn, but had only 16 handicap for a 146 net.

Bill Parmelee fired 169-16—153 and Fred Bartell had 188-28—160.

JCC to Present Awards Jan. 26

Kingston's Jaycees are taking part in the annual search for outstanding young men of New York state who merit recognition for their achievements, leadership, and service to humanity.

Those who are selected will receive distinguished service awards from New York State Junior Chamber of Commerce at a banquet at the Mark Twain Hotel in Elmira on Jan. 26, 1957.

Chester Diffley, president of the local Jaycees, said a committee of leading business, professional and civic leaders representing all areas of the state will select five young men for the award. The committee is being organized by Attorney Thomas J. Sullivan, of Elmira, state chairman of the distinguished service awards committee.

Anyone may nominate a candidate for an award Mr. Diffley pointed out. Nominees must be between the 21st and 36th birthdays and need not be members of the Jaycees. They will be judged on their personal character and ability as well as for their accomplishments for their communities or state.

Nominations, by letter or on official forms available from Mr. Diffley, should be completed and submitted by Nov. 24.

The distinguished service awards are made each year during the anniversary month of the founding of the Jaycees in January, 1920. Nearly 2,000 local chapters, all state chapters, and the national organization confer the awards.

The "Ten Outstanding Young Men" of the nation will be honored by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce on Jan. 19 at Dallas, Tex.

Dodgers Win On Wild Pitch

Nagoya, Japan, Nov. 7 (AP)—A wild pitch gave the Brooklyn Dodgers their winning run today in a 3-2 baseball victory over the Japan All-Stars.

The Dodgers, trailing 2-0 in the fourth inning, got outfielder Duke Snider on with a walk. Catcher Roy Campanella singled to center and rookie Jim Gentile walked to fill the bases.

First baseman Gil Hodges doubled to left, scoring Snider and Campanella.

The All-Stars relieved pitcher Hiroomi Oyane and called in Kazuhisa Inao of the Japan champion Nishitetsu Lions. Inao's first pitch went wild over the catcher's head and Gentile dashed home with the winning run.

Budapest Under Heaviest Red Shelling Yet

Vienna, Nov. 7 (AP) — The shelling of Budapest by Soviet troops reached its highest point last night, and food in some areas of the city was running out.

Trustworthy information on the besieged city, received today, gave this picture:

Hospitals Targets

Soviet forces have been systematically trying to wipe out pockets of resistance. Hospitals and clinics were among the targets. At a time yesterday when Moscow was broadcasting that all resistance had been liquidated, shelling of the city was increasing.

A score of Russian tanks was reported destroyed in one engagement between Russians and Hungarians near the French legation. This and other legations have been damaged. The dining room of the Duna (Bristol) Hotel was knocked out.

Women Man Guns

About 700 Hungarians continued to resist in the rubbled Killian barracks. In some cases women were manning the guns.

Today Hungarian Communist stations went off the air abruptly.

In London, a British minister told the House of Commons the Communists had imposed a strict curfew in Budapest and were shooting any violators on sight.

A rebel broadcast said Dunapentele, an anti-Red stronghold in the Danube valley south of Budapest, was under Soviet attack and Russian planes were bombing the town. This report came in a broadcast by Radio Rakoczy monitored in Munich by Radio Free Europe.

Then Radio Rakoczy, presumably a portable transmitter, announced that it was ceasing transmission indefinitely.

Stations Fall Silent

Hours before, the Russian-controlled Radio Budapest and stations at Pecs, in southern Pecs, in southern Hungary, and at Szombathely, near the Austrian frontier, had mysteriously fallen silent.

Lord John Hope, British undersecretary of state for foreign affairs, told the Commons reports to London indicated fighting was still going on in Budapest late last night despite repeated Russian demand for surrender of the rebels' arms.

"Some sections of the town were in flames," he said.

World Hails Ike's Victory

London, Nov. 7 (AP)—President Eisenhower's re-election was greeted widely around the world today with congratulations to the winner, condolences to the loser and general relief the campaign is over.

"Hail to Ike!" said the liberal London Star, which gave the election even more prominence than the cease-fire in Egypt.

"Today the entire free world offers President Eisenhower congratulations—and fervent wishes for his continued good health," the Star said.

Middle East Reaction

From Israel and the Arab world came greetings indicating the President's popularity cut across battle lines abroad as well as party lines at home.

"We have been gratified at Eisenhower's opposition to Anglo-French use of force in Egypt and his insistence that Israeli troops should withdraw from Egypt," an Arab said in Bierut. "The election results indicate the American public feels the same way."

On the Israeli side, the independent Tel Aviv newspaper Yediot Ahronot said Eisenhower "is regarded as the man who brought peace to the world."

In France, another nation involved in Middle East strife, former Premier Paul Reynaud recalled Eisenhower's role in the World War 2 liberation.

Pope Wires Praise

"For these reasons we rejoice in the triumphant re-election of President Eisenhower," Reynaud said.

Pope Pius XII cabled congratulations from the Vatican.

West Germany's Socialist and Free Democratic parties cabled similar salutes. Other congratulatory messages mounted as the election news spread.

In strife-torn Hungary, a rebel radio station broadcast congratulations to Eisenhower and expressed hope he "will stand by the oppressed and by those who are fighting for freedom."

GOP Drive . . .

pary vote was 433, and Wharton's plurality was 5,178.

Bush Victorious

Dr. E. Ogden Bush, of Delaware county, Republican candidate to succeed Arthur H. Wicks, of Kingston, in the state senate, polled a vote of 9,237, against his opponent William B. Byrne Jr., who polled 5,649 Democratic and 477 Liberal party votes for a total of 6,126. Dr. Bush's plurality was 3,111.

Charles H. Gaffney polled 9,875 on the Republican ticket for county surrogate against 5,063 Democratic and 431 Liberal party votes for Thomas J. Plunket. Gaffney's plurality was 4,381.

Bell Polls 10,025

Claude Bell, Republican candidate for county sheriff polled 10,025 votes against 4,736 Democratic and 435 Liberal party votes for Arthur H. Withall. Bell's plurality was 4,854.

Michael A. Galietta, unopposed in the Republican ticket, polled a vote of 10,584.

The Eisenhower-Nixon total vote in 1952 was reported at 10,148. This was 1,288 under the total they polled yesterday, but the plurality, by comparison was much greater this year.

The voting trend was consistent in the city with the exception of a switch in the voting on Proposition No. 1 in the second and third wards. It lost 529 to 570 in the second ward and 350 to 395 in the third ward.

In the second ward one write-in vote each was cast for Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Senator Joseph McCarthy for the presidency, and in the ninth ward a write-in vote was cast for William S. Keyser for Justice of the Supreme Court and one for Earl Sweet for coroner.

In the heavily populated second and 12th wards, Eisenhower and Nixon came out with the heavy advantage of 2,802 votes. They polled a lead of 1,348 votes in the second ward and 1,454 in the 12th ward.

MUSICAL MOPPET—Latest entry in the musical prodigy sweepstakes is seven-year-old Joseph Alfidi, of Yonkers, N. Y. He's pictured conducting the Symphony of the Air at rehearsal in New York City. He will make his debut as a symphonic conductor at Carnegie Hall.

HONOR POLIO STAR — Dr. Jonas E. Salk, developer of the now famous Salk polio vaccine, has been honored with a 1956 Albert Lasker Award. Announcement came from the American Public Health Association, in New York City.

WINS SPECIAL AWARD—Dr. Alan Gregg, of Bug Sur, Calif., retired vice president of the Rockefeller Foundation, has been honored with a Special Albert Lasker Award for 1956. The American Public Health Association, in New York City, cited him as an "elder statesman to science as a whole," after his three decades of service in the fields of public health, medical education and research.

HONORED—Thomas E. Murray, of the Atomic Energy Commission, has been given the 1956 peace award of the Catholic Association for International Peace. He was cited as one who has insisted "warfare is subject to moral law." Murray, a Democrat, has urged the U.S. halt tests of hydrogen weapons and limit their size and number in the weapons stockpile.

Egypt Demands Withdrawal of Foreign Forces

United Nations, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—Egypt told the UN today that British, French and Israeli forces must quit Egypt immediately.

This indicated Egypt opposed admission of a UN force to police the battle area unless the attacking armies were pulled out at once.

Egyptian delegate Omar Loutfi addressed the 76-nation assembly, called into session to speed creation of the force.

"Fighting is continuing" in Port Said, he said, but did not amplify this.

Loutfi rejected a British-French proposal that the two countries put their technicians to work clearing canal obstructions.

"The Anglo-French forces must quit Egypt immediately," he declared. "The Egyptian people have defended themselves and will continue to defend themselves if necessary."

Egypt's demand for withdrawal of the invaders was backed by an Asia-African resolution sponsored by 19 nations.

As the assembly opened debate, two Soviet satellites—Romania and Czechoslovakia—offered to contribute troops to the international force.

Democrats Hold

wrested three seats from the Republicans. In Idaho, they beat Sen. Herman Welker. In Ohio, Sen. George H. Bender of Ohio lost to Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

But the Republicans also had picked up three seats from the Democrats, so the net effect was a stand-off. The Republican gains were made in New York, Kentucky and West Virginia.

The five Senate races still undecided were in South Dakota, Oregon, Colorado, Nevada and in one of two Kentucky seats at stake.

Lagged Behind Ike

In the battle for control of both the House and the Senate in the new 85th Congress that will assemble Jan. 3, Republican candidates generally lagged far behind Eisenhower.

In Pennsylvania for example, Duff trailed Clark by nearly 35,000 votes which Eisenhower was sweeping to victory in the state by better than a million votes.

30 Are Split Early

In the first 30 Senate races to be decided, each party won 15.

In the House contests, Democrats nudged toward apparent control.

At 6:15 a. m. (EST) they had won 204 seats and were leading in 26 others. Republicans had captured 167 seats and were ahead in 35 others. Democrats were on top in 10 districts now held by Republicans, while GOP candidates were in front in 7 districts now held by Democrats.

Republicans had chalked up a net gain of 6 seats, losing 2 of their own and taking 8 held by Democrats. One of the Republican losses occurred in Maine on Sept. 10.

It takes 218 votes to control the House. In the present Congress the Democrats have 232 and the Republicans 202 seats, including two vacancies for each.

The present Democratic margin in the Senate is 49-47.

In the seven races which remained in doubt the longest, Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, running for re-election, was the only Republican ahead.

President . . .

Middle East, Hagerty replied:

"I think that would be a fair assumption."

He said it already has been made clear in the United Nations that the United States will not contribute any troops to the proposed UN police force.

Hagerty said this country's role will be confined, as previously announced, to helping with transportation of such a force, and other supply and support measures.

Auburn, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—The winning margin for President Eisenhower in carrying the city of Auburn was 4,452 votes over Adlai Stevenson.

The President polled 11,364 votes to 6,912 for Stevenson. In 1952, Eisenhower's plurality was 2,452 votes.

Jacob J. Javits defeated Robert Wagner in Auburn by 9,051 to 8,783.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—This traditionally Democratic city yesterday gave Adlai E. Stevenson a 13,232 plurality, but Albany county swung to Eisenhower by a majority of nearly 20,000 votes.

Stevenson won the city vote in 1952 by a margin of 14,517 while Eisenhower's vote-getting power four years ago drew 7,238 in the county.

Robert F. Wagner, defeated for the U. S. Senate seat, won both the city and county from Republican Jacob K. Javits. Wagner's margin in the city was 28,681, and 11,476 in the county.

It was the second time in 32 years that the Republicans had scored a victory on the top of the ticket in the county. The last GOP victor in the county was Calvin Coolidge, who swept by 10,000 votes.

Ike New Jersey's

Eisenhower, not for the Republican party. . . ."

Thousands of Jerseyans voted early in the day, which was unseasonably warm and bright. The returns exceeded the most optimistic pre-election forecasts.

Democrats Off

The Republicans said Eisenhower would win by at least 300,000 votes and the Democrats claimed Stevenson would take the state's 16 electoral votes by 50,000 majority.

Unlike 1952 when Eisenhower's victory failed to change the complexion of New Jersey's congressional delegation, yesterday's triumph carried into office 11 Republican representatives. Only three Democratic incumbents, Reps. Frank Thompson of the 4th District, Peter W. Rodino in the 10th, and Hugh J. Addonizio in the 11th, were reelected.

Assembly Victory

Assemblywoman Florence Dwyer regained the 6th District for the Republicans by defeating Democratic incumbent Harrison Williams.

And the Democratic debacle in Hudson cost the Democrats the Congressional seats held by T. James Tumulty and Alfred Sieminski. Tumulty lost to Republican Vincent J. Dellay and Sieminiski to Republican Norman H. Roth.

Eisenhower won Democratic Camden by 9,000 votes, almost the same figure by which he lost the county in 1952; and Democratic Mercer by 3,000 votes, again an almost exact reversal of 1952.

The President ran up huge majorities in the state's larger counties. He won Essex by 85,000; Union by 78,000; Morris by 57,000; Monmouth by 51,000 and Passaic by 39,000.

Bodine summed up the Eisenhower victory by saying "The people were convinced that Eisenhower was the man of the day."

Scholarly Crew

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—Crewmen on the U. S. Destroyer Isherwood claim the title of most scholarly among sailors serving on Pacific Fleet destroyers. Fifty-one per cent of the enlisted men on the Isherwood and 50 per cent of the officers were enrolled in education courses during the destroyer's six-month cruise in the Far East.

Dogged Eagle

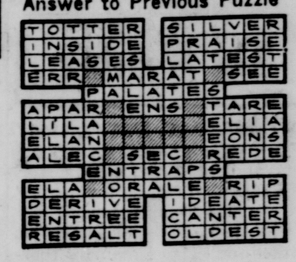

Wakefield, Mich. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans of Nobleville, Ind., tied their Chihuahua dog outside their Lake Gogebic cottage. Soon after they heard their dog's cries and rushed out to find a large eagle on the animal, trying to fly away with it. The couple said they frightened the bird away and treated the dog for gashes, scratches and cuts from the eagle's claws.

Louisiana for GOP, First in 80 Years

New Orleans, Nov. 7 (AP) — President Eisenhower swept toward a 60,000-vote victory today in Democratic Louisiana, shattering an 80-year opposition to a Republican White House.

The last time Deep South Louisiana gave its electoral vote to a Republican president was in 1876, when Rutherford B. Hayes won.

A switch in city voting, stirred by the war scare and a Negro swing to Ike put Eisenhower strongly ahead of Adlai Stevenson.

The unofficial count in 1,738 of 2,040 precincts:
Eisenhower 274,695.
Stevenson 215,617.
T. Coleman Andrews (States Rights) 35,311.

Border Line Dropped

Asheville, N. C. (AP) — The North Carolina border was extended into South Carolina 66 feet without fanfare after a survey team discovered an old error in private property lines. Politely the variation was called to the attention of both Tar Heel and Palmetto state officials and the error rectified, including the replacing of border markers on Highway 107.

Market Advances On Ike Victory

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—The stock market responded to President Eisenhower's re-election today with a spirited advance that sent prices of key issues up as much as $2 a share.

Activity was brisk from the start, and the market's upward trend was apparent moments after the opening gong.

Big blocks changing hands at the opening included Royal Dutch up $1 at $106.75 on 5,000 shares, Boeing ahead $1 at $57.50 on 3,500, Kaiser Aluminum up $1.62 at $57.62 on 4,000 and General Electric up 25 cents at $62.25 on 4,000.

The day after Eisenhower's first election victory four years ago, the market reacted with an initial surge that sent prices of key stocks sharply higher.

After a hectic first hour in which 820,000 shares were traded and the high speed ticker ran two minutes late for a time, activity slackened and the market retreated from its earlier highs.

By the end of the day, only 2,030,000 shares had changed hands and the Associated Press 60-stock average was down 10 cents at $106.20.

That was the story on Nov. 5, 1952. Four years later, at the start of trading today, the Associated Press 60-stock average stood at $181.90, for a net gain of $75.70 since the previous presidential election.

Ike Extends Thanks to Adlai

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—President Eisenhower today messaged defeated Adlai Stevenson thanks for Stevenson's "pledge of cooperation."

Eisenhower sent the telegram to Stevenson's home at Libertyville, Ill. It was the President's first act today following his landslide election victory.

The defeated Democratic candidate made his promise of cooperation in conceding defeat and congratulating the winner.

Eisenhower's reply said:

"I am grateful for your message of good wishes. In these difficult and uncertain days it is heartening to have your affirmation of the fact that the people of our country are united.

"I appreciate greatly your pledge of cooperation for the immediate future and for the four years that lie ahead."

Slight Delay

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—A letter reaching Phil D. Swing, attorney, was stamped: "Delay due to wrecked mail plane Jan. 10, 1930." In 1930 Swing was a congressman. The letter was from a postmaster, asking reappointment. Swing checked back and found he had reappointed the postmaster. There was no other explanation of the letter's 26-year delay.

Union Vote Is Reflected in Ike Landslide

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Labor union members seem clearly to have ignored their unions' endorsement of Democrat Adlai Stevenson and to have voted overwhelmingly instead for a second term for Republican President Eisenhower.

In his landslide victory, Eisenhower carried every single state having a large concentration of union members—including Michigan, Pennsylvania, New York and California.

Eisenhower's sweep of these key states indicated a substantial outpouring of union worker votes for Eisenhower regardless of their union endorsments for Stevenson.

Union labor votes undoubtedly helped elect Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams to a fifth term in Michigan and another Democrat, former Rep. Foster Furcolo, as governor of Massachusetts.

But West Virginia, a stronghold of the United Mine Workers, went Republican for the first time since 1928 despite the UMW's endorsement of Democrats for state offices. The state elected Republicans Cecil Underwood as governor and former Sen. Chapman Revercomb as senator over UMW-backed Democratic candidates.

The AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE) had concentrated its spending and political efforts more on the congressional contests than on the presidential race. This likely had some effect in keeping Congress from following the landslide pace to the GOP charted by Eisenhower.

Students Wreck British Embassy

Jakarta, Indonesia, Nov. 7 (AP)—A raging mob of students and trade union members attacked and partially wrecked the British embassy in Jakarta today. They were protesting the British-French military action in Egypt.

The demonstrators set fire to the information section but police intervened before the fire destroyed the building. The main embassy building, adjoining, was not damaged.

None of the embassy personnel was injured, but Ambassador Dermot MacDermot expressed fear his staff's homes would be the next target. MacDermot said he would file a strong protest with the Indonesian government.
